LISTS OF GRADUATES.

I.—QUI LAUREA EXORNATI SUNT IN ACADEMIA GLASCUANA,

A.D. 1578—Kal. April. 1695. pp. 1—42.

This List of Students who received the degree of Master of Arts in the University of Glasgow, is taken from a MS. volume in the University archives, entered as No. VII. of the Clerk of Faculty's Press, and occupies the part of that Record beginning with page 127, and ending with page 152.

The List of Graduates in No. VII. forms the continuation of that contained in the Annales Facultatis Artium, printed in Vol. II. pp. 178—299. Throughout the interval comprised between the close of the latter Record in 1555, and the opening of the present in 1578, no notice of any graduations has been preserved.

The book, No. VII. of the Clerk's press, is a folio volume of parchment, of 288 pages, entitled in an elaborate hand,

JURA, LEGES, INSTITUTA, PUBLICAE TABULAE, CATALOGUS LIBRORUM COMMUNIS BIBLIOTHECAE, CATALOGUS SCRIPTORUM, CHARTARUM, TABULARUM JURIS, REDITUUM, POSSESSIONUM, CATALOGUS SUPELLECTILIS ACADEMIAE GLASGUENSIS.

Immediately below this title, and in the same old hand, the following mottoes have been written:

An oblivisci potest mulier foetus sui, ut non misereatur filii uteri sui? Etiam hae obliviscí possint: tamen ego non obliviscar tui. Isa. 49.

Non te deseram neque te derelinquam. Jos I. 5. Dictum Jehovae

Tu modo promissis maneas, servataque serves

Sancta fidem soboles.

The volume has been chiefly used as a Register of the Office-bearers, Masters, Graduates, and Students, and it is from this source, accordingly, that the greater and most valuable part of the Lists of these Members of the University in this volume is derived. It is sometimes referred to in the other College Records as the old register (Antiquum Album), or, from the first words of its title, quoted above, as "Jura, Leges, Instituta."

The names in the Laureation List in this Record, with the single exception of those under date of the year 1695, are not in the autograph writing of the Graduates, but have been engrossed of the dates they bear by the successive scribes of the University. In the year 1695 the Graduates, contrary to the practice down to that period, have themselves entered their names in the album.

A.D. 1595, et seqq.—The lines of separation, copied from the original, are used for dividing the several Graduates of the same year into classes, according to their attainments.

From the year 1665, downwards, this classification is pointed out still more clearly, the words "Ordo primus," "Ordo secundus," etc. being then substituted for the lines in denoting the several classes.

A.D. 1622, et seqq.—By a comparison of the List of Graduates at certain periods with the corresponding years in the List of Matriculations, it appears that the words "Laureati extra ordinem," which in the former are prefixed to the names of certain Graduates, are equivalent to the form of expression in the latter, "Laureati ex speciali gratia," or "Qui lauream magisterii speciali gratia sunt consequuti." In the present List, for instance, under date of the year 1631, three of the Graduates are thus entered, "Laureati extra ordinem;" and in the corresponding part of the Matriculation List the same three individuals are thus described, "VII. Cal. Augusti Ascripti sunt qui sequuntur ... qui lauream magisterii speciali gratia sunt consecuti."

A.D. 1626, et seqq.—The letter b or B, which occurs in the Record opposite to the names of certain Graduates, is an abbreviation of the word Bursarius, and served as a memorandum of the Quaestor as to the Students who were entitled, on the ground of being Bursars, to claim an exemption from the charges payable to that officer at graduation.

A.D. 1660.—Owing to some accident, the names of those who received the degree of Master of Arts in 1660 have not been entered in the Record, but a blank space, equal to about half a page of the original, has been left, with the intention of afterwards supplying the omission. This vacant space, however, was soon devoted to another purpose, having subsequently been filled up by entries of the elections of the Rectors of the years 1678, 79, 80, and 81.

A.D. 1672.—That part of the List which is printed at the foot of page 38, and the beginning of the following in the text, has, in the original, owing to an oversight of the scribe, been dated Anno CIↃIↃCLXII instead of CIↃIↃCLXXII. That the proper date of this particular enrolment of Graduates is 1672, is evident from the place it occupies in the Register, which, with the exception of the position of only two names, about to be noticed, is throughout continuous; and is further proved by the circumstance, that all the names of the Graduates in this part of the List, which has been inadvertently antedated, are found in the Register of Matriculations, under date of the year 1669 or 1670. It will also be observed that the enrolment of Graduates, which really belongs to the year 1662, occurs above in its proper place in the List.

A.D. 1673.—From a similar inadvertence, the scribe has in the original written the year MDCLXIII instead of MDCLXXIII. as the date of that part of the List which occupies the latter half of page 39 of the text. Both these dates have been corrected in the text.

A.D. 1673.—The name of Matthaeus Browne, who bears to have taken his degree in 1673, stands by itself in the Record, and appears to have been overlooked at the time when the names of the other Graduates of the year just mentioned were entered by the scribe, and to have been afterwards inserted, on the omission being noticed, in a vacant space of the Record, which happened to have been left in the middle of the enrolment of Graduates of the year 1671. In the text this entry has been transferred to its proper place in the List.

A.D. 1677-1694.—A serious hiatus occurs in the Laureation List contained in this Record, extending from the year 1676 to the year 1695.

Another MS. volume in the College archives, No. XIV. of the Clerk's Press, however, furnishes materials, available, to some extent, for supplying the names of those who graduated in certain years of this interval, left blank in the Laureation Register.

This Record, No. XIV. has been chiefly devoted to Presentations to Bursaries; but at page 9 it contains the Act of Faculty, dated June 17, 1666, whereby "it was appoynted and statut, that all Students of Philosophie should swear and signe the oath of alleageance, befor the being laureat and receaving the degree of Master of Arts." ... (Printed in Vol. II. p. 337.) Immediately after, at pp. 9, 10, of the Record, occur the names of certain Students, who, in terms of the statute, took this oath previously to being graduated in 1666, et seqq. That a list of those Students, who took the oath of allegiance on such occasions, is tantamount to a list of those who were actually constituted Masters of Arts, appears on comparing the list of those who took the oath in question with the list of Graduates in the years previous to the commencement of the hiatus in the Record of Laureations, when it will be found that the names of the Students, to whom the oath was administered, have been invariably entered in the corresponding part of the latter Record.

The subscriptions to the oath of allegiance, occurring in the Record XIV. during the years 1682—84, have accordingly been extracted, with a view of making good, as far as possible, the blank which is found during that interval in the formal Register of Laureations.

Omitting certain series of signatures during years comprised in the formal List of Graduates, at p. 13 of the Record No. XIV. the following heading occurs:

"The ninth of Julij, 1668, the whilk day the Students of Philosophy, undersubscriving, being to undergo ther examination, in order to ther receiving the degree of Master of Arts, did solemnlie swear and signe the oath of alleageance." ...

II.—QUI LAUREA EXORNATI SUNT IN ACADEMIA GLASCUANA.

Martij 22° 1707—2 Maij 1727. P. 42—59.

This part of the List of Graduates is taken from a MS. volume in the University archives, entitled No. XLV. of the Clerk's Press, and occupies the first 10 pages of that Record. It is a large quarto parchment volume, and, as is stated at the beginning of the List of Matriculations, which it also contains, was intended to serve as a continuation of the ancient album described as No. VII. of the Clerk's Press, which has furnished the preceding part of the List of Graduates printed in the text.

The series of Laureations contained in this later Record, No. XLV. is continued down to the year 1763; but, in accordance with the plan of the present publication, that part of the Register which is posterior in date to the year 1727 has not been printed.

No materials are known to exist for supplying the defect of the Lists of Graduates from April 1695, when the volume No. VII. ends, to 22d March 1707, when the Lists commence in No. XLV.

A.D. 1695, et seqq.—It will be noticed, that, from the commencement of the 18th century to the year 1727, at which point the extract from the Register of Laureations printed in this volume ends, the majority of Graduates are stated to have been natives of Ireland. This circumstance is probably to be explained by "an agreement," narrated in an Act of Faculty, dated 29th March, 1691, to have been "made by the Presbyterian Ministers in the North of Ireland, to admitt none unto the Ministry but such as should be graduate Masters of Arts in some University." (Vol. II. p. 362.)

A.D. 1711.—From the series of graduations of date subsequent to 22d March, 1707, here stated to be taken from the Record No. XLV. must be excepted that of Robert Simson, recently elected Professor of Mathematics in 1711, the notice of which has been derived from the Record No. VII. p. 150, where it has been inserted in a vacant space which happened to have been left between the respective lists of Graduates of 1672 and 1673.

A.D. 1722.—The names of the Graduates comprised in the present Record, No. XLV. are throughout autograph, with the exception only of those of Charles Jervay and Samuel Gwinett, of the year 1722, which have been entered in the handwriting of Dr. Robert Simson, the Mathematician. These persons appear to have taken their degree on the 28th of June, 1722; and the date, 18th June, 1731, indicates the time when the entries recording their graduation were inserted in the Register.

I.—THE LIST OF MATRICULATED MEMBERS OF THE UNIVERSITY.

NON. JAN. 1590—9 MART. 1696. P. 60-161.

From the MS. volume in the University archives, No. VII. page 175. This Record has already been described at pp. iii. iv. supra.

The Register of Matriculations exhibits a great hiatus, extending from the year 1558, when the Annales Universitatis, printed in Vol. II. pp. 55—177, break off, to the year 1590, when the Matriculations in the present volume commence. No. VII. which has supplied these later Matriculations, is thus, so far as the College Records extend, immediately supplementary to the List of Intrants in the Annales Universitatis.

The names composing the Matriculation List, as contained in the present Record, have been uniformly entered in the handwriting of the Intrants themselves, with the exception of the names of the fourth class of the year 1660, which have been engrossed by the University scribe.

The names constituting the fourth class of 1661 have also been entered by the scribe in the body of the Record, but occur by themselves in the autograph writing of the Intrants on the last page of the original volume.

A.D. 1593.—The Matriculation List in No. VII. with the exception of a few names about to be noticed occurring at a comparatively late period, is a continuous Register, the several years with their respective lists of Incorporati following one another in a strictly chronological order; and it is therefore probable that the deviation from this principle of arrangement, which will be observed at p. 61 of the text, where a portion of the List, dated March 1593, follows one dated in July of the same year, is owing to an oversight of the scribe who inserted these dates. Such a mistake would be apt to happen, from the scribe copying, along with the formula of the preceding year, also the date attached to those words. In the present instance, it is accordingly presumed, the scribe has written CIↃIↃXCIII for CIↃIↃXCIIII.

A.D. 1617.—The words "12 Kallend. April. 1622, perjurus apostata" have been written after the name of Thomas Maxwell, (see p. 72 of text). It appears that this individual was thus stigmatised on account of his having become reconciled to the Church of Rome. The circumstances attending his leaving the University, after openly avowing his connection with that Church and continued attachment to its doctrines, are related in a letter from Mr. James Robertoun, one of the Regents, to Mr. Robert Boyd of Trochrig, who had lately been obliged to resign the office of Principal, in consequence of his refusal to sign the Perth Articles. The letter is printed in Wodrow's Biographical Collections, Vol. II. p. 169.

A.D. 1634—49.—It will be observed that the preceding Lists exhibit names, but, with few exceptions, without designations attached to them; in another College Record, No. XI. of the Clerk's Press, there occurs the formula of an oath administered to Intrants, and the latter portion of the subscriptions of the Students who signed it, supplies in part this defect. No. XI. is a folio of paper in modern binding, and consists of a number of fasciculi of different sizes, not otherwise connected than by their being bound together. On one of these, about the middle of the volume, which has not been continuously paged, the oath and subscriptions occur. The Lists of such subscriptions extend throughout the series of years beginning with the session 1634-35, and ending with that of 1648-49. In these Lists not only are the particular subscriptions belonging to each of the years of the interval just stated clearly defined, but the particular class in which subscriber was enrolled is also carefully indicated.

The portion of the subscriptions with designations appended, namely the series beginning with the session 1642-43, and ending with that of 1648-49, it is thought useful to add here.

A.D. 1668.—The oath above referred to, occurring in the MS. volume, No. XI. has been repeated in a subsequent part of the same record, and on the latter occasion followed by a series of subscriptions, dated Post Calendas Octobris anno 1668, but without the addition of designations of the subscribers. These subscriptions constitute a duplicate list of the Intrants registered in the part of the Matriculation Record of corresponding date.

A.D. 1667—1671.—The chief exceptions in this Record to the strictly chronological sequence of the annual lists of Incorporati, consist in the names of the Third Class of 1667 occurring in the original, after a series of names, under the date anno 1668, and in a section of the names of the Fourth Class of 1668 having been omitted in its proper place next to those of the other members of that class in the year in question, and occurring immediately after those of the Fourth Class of 1670. That this section is misplaced, is expressly noticed in the heading prefixed to it in the Record: "Caetera nomina discipulorum quartae classis qui non subscripserunt altero ab hoc folio A.D. 1668."

A.D. 1674.—The only other instance of names inserted out of the order of time, is in the case of the signatures of Joannes Hartstonge and Dudleus Cooley, which, although dated "anno 1676," have been inserted in the middle of the names belonging to the year 1674.

A.D. 1672.—The names of the last three Students in the Fourth Class of the year 1672, namely, Archibaldus Campbellus, Duncanus Stewart, Rannaldus Campbell, have been carefully deleted in the original, by the pen being drawn several times through them.

A.D. 1676.—The name of Gulielmus Hansard, Hybernus, 21 December 1676, has been similarly deleted in the original.

A.D. 1688.—The words, "ob nequitiam extrusus," which have been affixed to the name of Gulielmus Dempster, a student of the Fourth Class, of the year 1688, are in the handwriting of Principal Dunlop.

II. THE LIST OF MATRICULATED MEMBERS OF THE UNIVERSITY.

26TH FEBRUARY, 1697—1727. pp. 161—236.

From the MS. volume in the University archives, No. XLV. of the Clerk's Press, pp. 1—65. This Record has been already described at p. vi. supra.

The List of Matriculations contained in No. XLV. is carried down to the year 1756, but, in accordance with the plan of this publication, that part of the List which is of later date than the year 1727 has not been printed.

The names of the Matriculated Members of the University in this Record are all autograph, with the exception of those of seven, constituting the first class of the year 1725.

In the College Record, No. CXXXV. p. 139, certain laws of the Library occur, and are there followed by a form of obligation to observe them, administered to such Students as became members of the Library. This oath is succeeded by an uninterrupted succession of subscriptions throughout the series of years, beginning on 4th Jan. 1699, and ending on 31st Dec. 1711. These subscriptions have been collated in printing the Matriculation List of corresponding dates.

NOMINA ADOLESCENTIUM THEOLOGIAE STUDIOSORUM IN ACADEMIA GLASGUENSI. pp. 237—256.

From a MS. volume in the University archives, described as No. X. of the Clerk's Press. This Record is a large folio of paper, in the original binding, with brass clasps. It has never been paged.

No separate list of Students of Theology seems to have been kept before the year 1644; and even for some time after that date the Record is far from being continuous; considerable intervals being allowed to elapse during which no separate enrolment of the Students designed for the church appears to have been made. About the year 1692, however, the attention of the University seems to have been directed to the omission; and at that period the registration of this class of Students was resumed in the Record above mentioned, and is there uninterruptedly continued until the year 1727, when it terminates, and does not then at least appear to be elsewhere recommenced.

The regular continuation of the present list, as dating from 1692, shortly after Principal Dunlop's admission, and ending in 1727, the year of Principal Stirling's death, is perhaps to be attributed to the interest taken in Divinity Students by Principals Dunlop and Stirling, who have interpolated the list with annotations relative to the subsequent career of these alumni of the University.

The names in the present list, as stated in the notices prefixed to its commencement in 1644, and to its resumption in 1692, are autograph; the interpolations which occur in the latter portion of it, intimating chiefly the parishes or churches of which certain of the Students were afterwards incumbents, besides various incidents, or occasionally the premature close of the career of others, are in the handwriting of Principals Dunlop and Stirling, and of the late Dr. J. S. Reid, Professor of Ecclesiastical History in this University, and author of the History of Presbyterianism in Ireland.

Fortunately the deficiency observable in the early part of the Register of Students of Theology may to a certain extent be supplied by materials in another MS. volume, No. XIV. of the Clerk's Press, to which attention has already been directed in the foregoing Tabular remarks [pp. v.-vi. supra], as containing the oath of allegiance printed at p. 337 of Vol. II. which was ordained, by an Act of the Moderators, dated June 17, 1666, to be administered to all Students of Philosophy, previously to receiving the degree of Master of Arts, and which was also taken and subscribed by the Students of Theology of the period, several of whom, being styled "Masters," seem to have already received the degree of Master of Arts. Advantage has here been taken of the following series of subscriptions of this class of Students to the oath in question, during 1666, 1667, and 1678, to make good the hiatus in the formal list. They occur at page 10 of the Record, No. XIV.

It remains to be stated, with respect to the "Instituta a Theologiae Studiosis observanda" (pp. 239—41), that there are in the Record two such series of laws, the earliest of which is undated, but appears to be engrossed in a hand of the middle of the 17th century. Preference has, however, been given to the particular series printed in the text, though in considerably later handwriting than the other, on account of its greater completeness.

LISTS OF THE BURSARS.

pp. 257—303.

Lists of the Bursars for the five years 1630-1634, together with two memoranda, respectively dated 15th November, 1635, and 26th July, 1634, relating to the sums paid in lieu of the spoons, presented by Bursars to the College, on their admission. pp. 257,258.

From the first fly-leaf of a MS. volume in the University archives, containing the accounts kept by the Oeconomus of Expenditure on the Common Table, from October, 1633, until the end of July, 1640, and labelled on the side No. 10 (II.)

In the series of Bursars here noted by the Oeconomus, the names of David Ghrame and Andrew Glasgow, A.D. 1630, have been afterwards deleted.

List of Bursars, dated 12th November, 1635, together with two memoranda immediately following, dated respectively 2d February, 1635, and 7th December, 1637. pp. 258,259.

From the above mentioned MS. volume of the Oeconomus, labelled 10 (II.) These occur between the Accounts of Expenditure on the College Table, during the session of 1634,35, and those of the session 1635,36.

Names of two Bursars who entered in 1636. p. 259.

From the same volume of the Oeconomus, labelled 10 (II.), between the accounts of the session of 1635,36, and those for that of 1636,37.

Names of three Bursars stated to have "entered since Michaelmes 1637." p. 259.

From the same volume of the Oeconomus, 10 (II.) between the accounts for the session of 1636,37, and those for that of 1637,38.

Two notices of payments made by certain Bursars enumerated, in compensation for spoons, dated respectively the last day of December, 1642, and 16th March, 1649: together with the names of six Bursars, also dated 16th March, 1649, who were still owing their several spoons to the College. p. 260.

From a fly-leaf at the end of another MS. volume of the Oeconomus, containing the Accounts of Expenditure on the Common Table, from October, 1640, to 24th July, 1649, and labelled on the side, No. 9 (III.) On reversing the Record, 10 numbered fly-leaves occur at the other side, on the first of which the notices above referred to have been engrossed.

No formal Register of Bursars having been kept before 1653, it has been deemed expedient, with the view of supplying, as far as possible, the deficiency during the previous years, to print the notices respecting Bursars of the University which have been engrossed in the College Records by the Oeconomus pro tempore, wherever these notices presented a succession of names in a consecutive order.

The preceding enumerations of Bursars are therefore to be regarded in the light of memoranda of the Oeconomus, for the purpose of accounting to the College for his receipts of the spoons, or their equivalents, which the Bursars were obliged to present at their admission [see Act of Moderators, Vol. II. p. 325], rather than a formal list of Bursars, which does not appear to have been kept until the year 1653.

It is to be added, that, besides these incidental enumerations of Bursars, several, for the most part isolated, notices of members of this class of students are found interspersed throughout the Accounts of the whole Annual Income and Expenditure of the College. Among the selections from these accounts, printed at pp. 552–588 of this volume, the entries, which embodied notices of this nature during the absence of a formal List of Bursars, have been preserved, with the view of supplying, as far as such materials permit, this deficiency.

THE NAMES OF THE BURSARS OF THE OLD FUNDATIONE, AND OF THE NEW DONATIONE OUT OF THE CUSTOMES OF GLASGOW, ETC.

A.D. 1653—4 Kal. Nov. 1683. pp. 261—277.

From the MS. volume, entitled No. XI. of the Clerk's Press, to which reference has already been made, as containing the names of Intrants with designations attached, printed at pp. viii.—xvi. supra. About the middle of the Record, which has not been continuously paged, the present List occurs.

From the year 1653 to the year 1663, the names of the Bursars have been entered in this Record by Principal Gillespie and other officers of the University; but from the date, 6 Non. Mart. 1663 [p. 262], to the conclusion of the List of Admissions, on 4 Kal. Nov. 1683 [p. 277 of Text], not only the names of the several Bursars, but those of the particular foundations on which each was admitted, are in the handwriting of the Bursars themselves.

The names of Mr. David Rob, on Struthers' Foundation, Postridie Non. Jan. 1670; of Mr. J. M'Kenney, on Z. Boyd's Foundation, Postridie Non. Jan. 1670; of Patricius Bryce, Town of Glasgow's Bursar, Cal. Oct. 1670; of Alexander Cunninghame Town's Bursar, 29 Oct. 1674; of Dugaldus Lindsay, King's Bursar, 29 Oct. 1674 of Walterus Watsone, Town's Bursar of Philosophy, 6 Kal. Nov. 1675; and of Joannes Marshall, Town's Bursar, 3 Non. Nov. 1676, have been respectively deleted from the sections of the List under the preceding dates, by the pen being drawn through them.

It will be observed (pp. 267, 268 of Text) that there are two different enumerations of Bursars of Theology, both dated 3 Non. Oct. 1670, but the position of the latter leaves no doubt that its proper date is 1671, instead of 1670, as inadvertently written in the original.

ABBREVIATE OF RECORD OF PRESENTATIONS OF BURSARS, 16 APRIL, 1683—9 APRIL, 1727.

pp. 277-303.

Abbreviated from the MS. volume in the University archives, No. XIV. of the Clerk's Press, to which attention has already been directed, as containing the supplementary Lists of Graduates and Students of Theology, printed at p. vi. and p. xviii. supra. It is a small thin quarto of paper in the original parchment binding, and is thus entitled, on a fly-leaf in a hand of the last century: "Memorandum Book of Faculty Meetings, or things done in Faculties from 1663, etc." with this addition, in a more modern hand, "chiefly presentations to Bursaries."

As the preceding list of admissions to Bursaries, taken from Record No. XI., ends on 4 Kal. November 1683, recourse has necessarily been had, in order to supply the deficiency occasioned by its close, to the present Record, No. XIV., containing a regular and continuous Register of Presentations to Bursaries; in which Record, however, it appears, from internal evidence, that each presentation was tantamount to the admission of the person presented.

As stated in the title just quoted, the Record of Presentations begins in 1663; but that part which is coincident in date with the concluding portion of the list of admissions immediately preceding has not been printed. A line of points in the text indicates this omission.

The registration of the Presentations, from the date 31st Dec. 1690, to 30th Dec. 1699, inclusively, is in the handwriting of Principal Dunlop, while the remaining part of the Record is in that of Principal Stirling, by whom therefore the following explanation must be understood to be given:—"These preceding presentations, since Principall Dunlop's time till Oct. 27, 1701, were given in to me by different hands, without any account when they had been received by them," etc. (p. 286 of Text.) And, again, "The date of presenting the above presentations is not marked, by reason of my being so much abroad, and particularly twise at London in the space of seven months." (P. 292 of Text.)

A complete series of the various Deeds founding Bursaries in the University, and also of such documents as regulate the administration of the funds, together with biographical notices of the individuals by whom those endowments have been bestowed, will be found in a work lately published by authority of the Faculty, and under the editorial care of Dr. W. Thomson, entitled, "Deeds Instituting Bursaries, etc. in the University of Glasgow."

NOMINA EORUM GRADU DOCTORATUS IN ALIQUA FACULTATE ORNATORUM. pp. 304—306.

From the MS. volume in the University archives, entitled No. XLV. of the Clerk's Press, and described above at p. vi. The present list occurs between the sections respectively dated 1752 and 1753 of the List of Matriculated Members of the University, with which the greater part of the Record is occupied. Its pages have not been numbered. Unfortunately no list, nor in fact any notice of the persons on whom the degree of Doctor may have been conferred, of earlier date, is found in the College Records; and the present list, so far at least as contained in the Record above mentioned, concludes abruptly with the promotion of the Earl of Selkirk to the Doctorate in 1745.

The majority of the entries in this list, as is apparent from the form in which the person promoted to the Doctorate speaks, are in the autograph writing of the person so promoted. The other entries, in which the person who is created Doctor is spoken of, have been inserted by the College scribe, but are authenticated by the signature of the recipient of the degree.

Some additional information, respecting the persons here enumerated, is supplied by the other College Records.

The circumstances which led to the degree of Doctor of Divinity being conferred on the Rev. Daniel Williams, illustrates the interest taken by that divine in the English Students attending the University of Glasgow, and also to some extent the connection subsisting between that seminary and the Presbyterians of England. It is unnecessary here to do more than allude to several minutes of Faculty, which have already been printed in the work entitled "Deeds Instituting Bursaries, etc. in the University of Glasgow," p. 138. The more immediate occasion of this degree being granted, seems to have been the proposal, on the part of Mr. Williams, ratified by the Faculty on 22d Dec. 1708, to institute a tutorship or inspectorship of the English Students. [Vol. II. p. 394.] Shortly afterwards, on May 10, 1709, the Faculty expressed their intention of conferring the degree of D.D. on that benefactor, "in consideration," as stated in the minute, "of the kind proposals the Rev. Mr. Williams, minister at London, has made to this University, and of what he hath already begun to doe;" and accordingly, by an act of the 16th of the same month, they appointed a diploma, constituting him Doctor of Divinity, to be prepared. [College Record, No. XX. of the Clerk's Press, p. 56.]

By the Act of Faculty above cited, of date 22d Dec. 1708, William Dalgleish was appointed Tutor to the English Students; and, from a minute dated 8th May, 1718, at which time Mr. Samuel Pye was Tutor, it appears that Dr. Williams continued to contribute, from the period of his instituting the inspectorship until his decease, a certain annual sum to the Student intrusted with the duties of that office. (College Record, No. XIX. p. 257.)

The following notices, respecting Mr. Calamy and Mr. Cumin, are found in the act of Faculty, dated 17th May, 1709, by which they were promoted to the Doctorate.

"The Faculty being informed that the Rev. Mr. Calamy, Minister at Westminster, has already received his degree of Doctor in Divinity from the University of Aberdeen, etc. appoint a Diploma, ad eundem, to be given him.

"The Faculty being likewise informed, that Mr. John Cumin, Professor of Ecclesiastical History at Edinburgh, has received the degree of Doctor in Law from the University of Aberdeen, appoint a Diploma, ad eundem, to be given him." [College Record, No. XX. of the Clerk's Press, p. 57.]

In a minute, dated 10th October, 1710, appointing the degree of D.D. to be conferred on Mr. Oldfield, it is stated that "The Faculty being informed that the Rev. Mr. Oldfield, Minister of the Gospel in Southwark, London, hath already received a Diploma from the College of Edinburgh, creating him Doctor in Divinity, . . . therefore appoint a Diploma, ad eundem, to be given him." [College Record, No. XX. of the Clerk's Press, p. 67.]

By the original constitution, the Bishop of Glasgow was Chancellor of the University. On one occasion, anno 1456, apparently during the absence of the Bishop, the Vicar-

General acted as Chancellor. (Vol. II. p. 190.) After the Reformation, the Protestant Archbishops were Chancellors; and it was not until the ascendency of Presbyterianism, consequent on the diminution of the royal authority, in the latter years of the reign of King Charles I., that the first appointment of a lay Chancellor occurred, when, on X. Cal. October, 1642, James, Marquis of Hamilton, was elected by the Senate of the University.

At the epoch of the Restoration, in the year 1660, the next formally recorded appointment of a lay Chancellor was made by the Senate of the University; William Earl of Glencairn, being on this occasion elected: but, on the re-establishment of Episcopacy, Alexander, Archbishop of Glasgow, is styled Chancellor of the University.

The next election of a layman to this dignity took place on 30th Sept. 1692, when John Lord Carmichael was nominated Chancellor by the Senate.

The office of Chancellor remained vacant for some time after his death, and was, in 1714, conferred on James Duke of Montrose, in whose family it has continued until the present day.

1. x. Cal. Oct. MDCXLII. James, Marquis of Hamilton, Earl of Arran, Cambridge, etc. elected Chancellor of the University. p. 307.
   From an entry, authenticated by the autograph signatures of the Moderators, in the MS. volume in the University archives, known as No. VII. of the Clerk's Press, p. 80.

2. VIII. Cal. Nov. MDCLX. William Earl of Glencairn, Lord Chancellor of Scotland, elected Chancellor of the University.—His oath on entering office. p. 308.
   From an entry, authenticated by the autograph signatures of the Moderators, in the MS. vol. in the University archives, known as No. VII. of the Clerk's Press, p. 109.

3. 30 September, 1692. John Lord Carmichael elected Chancellor of the University. p. 309.
   From an entry, authenticated by the autograph signatures of the Moderators, in the MS. vol. in the University archives, known as No. X. of the Clerk's Press. pp. 20-21.
   The names of the Rector, and of three Professors, enumerated in the list of sederunt prefixed to the present Act of the Senate, do not occur, as will be observed, among the signatures.

4. 1 October, 1714. The Masters and Dean of Faculty resolve to confer the office of Chancellor, vacant for the last four years, on James Duke of Montrose, his Majesty's Principal Secretary of State. p. 310.

5. 1 October, 1714. James, Duke of Montrose, his Majesty's Principal Secretary of State, is formally elected Chancellor of the University. pp. 310, 311.

From an entry, authenticated by the autograph signatures of the Moderators, in the College Record, No. VII. p. 157, collated with a copy in the College Record, No. XX. p. 135.

6. 15 February, 1715. Oath taken by the Duke of Montrose on being admitted Chancellor of the University.

From the College Record, No. VII. of the Clerk's Press, p. 158.

DOMINI RECTORES UNIVERSITATIS GLASGUENSIS.

Cal. Mart. MDXCIII.—XXIV. Nov. MDCCXXIX. pp. 313—347.

This formal List of Rectors, it will be observed, is very imperfect. A more extensive one, formed chiefly on the basis of the formal List, but with the deficiencies of the latter supplied, as far as possible, from other contemporary and authentic sources of information, will be found subjoined to the Preface.

The present series of Rectorial elections, Nos. 1—113, printed in the Text, is taken from the College Records, No. VII., No. X., No. XX., No. XXI., No. XXII., No. XLV., and some uninventoried acts of Senate and Faculty.

From the miscellaneous nature of the contents of No. VII. it has been found necessary to refer to the pages of that volume, where the several entries of election occur. Specific references to its pages, as well as to the particular records from which the entries have been derived, will accordingly be found in the List of Rectors above described, printed in the Prolegomena.

DECANI FACULTATIS UNIVERSITATIS GLASGUENSIS.

Ultimo die Julii CIↃIↃXCII.—3 July 1727. pp. 348—366.

This recorded List of Deans of Faculty exhibits several deficiencies, but a more complete List of these officers, comprehending both the elections of the formal List and supplemental notices, where known to exist, of the succession of Deans during the intervals when it is deficient, will be found in the Prolegomena.

The List printed in the Text is taken from the College Records, No. VII., No. X., No. XIX., No. XX., No. XXII., and some uninventoried acts of Senate and Faculty.

More specific references to these Records have been given in the above mentioned List of Deans, printed in the Prolegomena.

PRAEFECTI SEU PRINCIPALES UNIVERSITATIS GLASGUENSIS.

13 Cal. Feb. 1615—8 Feb. 1728. pp. 367—372.

This List of Principals, in proportion to its length, is more deficient than that of any other functionaries of the University; but, on the other hand, the materials for supplementing it are unusually copious. A more complete List of the admissions of those who presided over the College, comprising, besides the entries in the formal List, incidental notices and approximate determinations of the dates of the admissions not formally recorded, in so far only as necessary to exhibit the succession of Principals, will be found subjoined to the Preface.

The entries, Nos. 1—11, printed in the Text, have been taken from the College Records, No. VII. and No. XXIII. collated with similar notices in other Records. More specific references to these volumes will be found in the List of Principals printed in the Prolegomena.

MAGISTRI SEU PROFESSORES UNIVERSITATIS GLASGUENSIS.

3 Oct. 1590—3 Nov. 1730. pp. 373—402.

This formal List of Masters, Nos. 1—84, printed in the Text, is taken from the College Records, No. VII., No. XXIII., No. XXVII., and some uninventoried acts of Senate and Faculty.

Specific references to these several Records, and to the pages of each, are given in the more extensive List of Regents and Professors printed in the Prolegomena, and formed on the basis of the present formal List, but including supplemental notices of certain admissions which it omits, and supplying approximate determinations of dates, where none have been attached to the entries which it contains.

BIBLIOTHECA.

pp. 403—464.

1. Books presented, by John Bishop of Glasgow, to the Pedagogy, for the use of the Regents therein. A.D. 1475. pp. 403, 404.

2. Books presented by Mr. Duncan Bunch, some time Canon of Glasgow, and Principal Regent of the Pedagogy, for the use of the Regents in the same. pp. 404, 405.

From the College Record, No. II. entitled Annales Facultatis Artium, pp. 45—47, described above at p. li. of Table of Vol. II.

The name of Mr. Duncan Buneh ceases to be found in the Annales Facultatis after the date of 3d November, 1473 [p. 217 of Vol. II.]; and as, in the notice of this donation which has been entered in the original on or shortly after 3d November, 1475, he is alluded to as deceased, his death must have taken place between November 1473, and November 1475, in the course of which interval the books here enumerated, which seem to have been a bequest, were probably acquired by the College.

Mr. D. Bunch's donation [No. 2], immediately follows in the original the List of Books presented by the Bishop [No. 1], and the insertion of the former at this part of the Record seems to have been suggested by the registering of the Bishop's donation.

3. Books presented by Mr. John Brown, Canon of Glasgow, and some time Regent in the Pedagogy of Glasgow, for the use of the Regents in the same. 1483. pp. 405, 406.

From the same Record, No. II. entitled Annales Facultatis, p. 73. The preceding lists of books presented, Nos. 1—3, have been printed in Dr. M'Crie's Life of Melville, Vol. I. pp. 429—432.

CATALOGUS LIBRORUM COMMUNIS BIBLIOTHECAE COLLEGII GLASGUENSIS, 1578.

This title occurs before the Lists of Books which occupy pp. 21–30 of the College Record, No. VII. [described above, pp. iii. iv.], and constitute Nos. 4–22 of the text. The Lists have been entered in various contemporary hands.

Another, but, from the diversity of its arrangement and form, not a duplicate copy of the Catalogus Communis Bibliothecae, 1578, has been engrossed in the College Record, No. II. pp. 166, 167, (described above at p. li. of Vol. II.) This copy, and the early part of that in No. VII. are written in a contemporary if not identical hand; but the copy in No. II. includes only the earlier portion of the Catalogue, containing the articles numbered 4–9 in the text, at which point it breaks off, whilst the copy in the Record, No. VII. comprehends the Lists printed as Nos. 4–22. This incompleteness is not confined to the number, but extends to the description of the books in some of the lists, [vide infra, No. 6.]

The arrangement also of these two copies exhibits considerable difference, that of the Record, No. II. consisting of hastily prepared memoranda of the additions made to the Library between the re-opening of the College in 1573, and 8 Nov. 1582, the date of its concluding List: while the other is the arranged and completed catalogue of the whole.

There is still a third copy of this Catalogue, in the handwriting of the middle of the 17th century, in the College Record, No. CXXXV. This is a large folio of paper in the original calf gilt binding, with the royal arms stamped on the sides. It contains two series of paging, the first of which is occupied with an "Inventure of the Wreats, etc. made anno 1655;" whilst the second contains a copy of the Catalogus Bibliothecae, 1578, being a reproduction of that in No. VII., together with numerous additional Lists of Books which are entered in handwriting contemporary with the dates of their acquisition, and brought down to the year 1699.

4. Books presented to the Library by Mr. Andrew Hay, Lord Rector. [1573–8.] p. 407.
From the College Record, No. VII. p. 21. This donation is also entered in the Record No. II. p. 166, and in the Record No. CXXXV. p. 1 (second series of pp.), and constitutes the first article in the Catalogus Bibliothecae, 1578. There is a printed copy in Wodrow's Biograph. Collect. Vol. I. part ii. p. 527.

5. List of Books presented to the Library by George Buchanan, Preceptor to the King. Ibid.
From the Record No. VII. p. 21, collated with the copy in the Volume No. CXXXV. pp. 1, 2. The copy in the Record No. II. pp. 166, 167, breaks off with the entry, "Stephani Byzantij de Urbibus, etc." at which point the Lists of Books given by Thomas Jack [No. 8], and of those bought in 1577 [No. 7], immediately succeed; and on the conclusion of the latter [No. 7], the list of the remaining works, constituting Buchanan's donation, is resumed, with this marginal title: "Ex dono pariter Georgii Buchanani regii Magistri."
This donation has been printed in Irving's Memoirs of Buchanan, pp. 393, 394: but the copy in that work has been taken from the version of the Catalogue in the Record, No. II.

6. List of Books bequeathed to the Library by James Boyd, Bishop of Glasgow, 10th June, 1581. pp. 408, 409.
From the College Record, No. VII. p. 22, collated with a copy in No. CXXXV. pp. 3, 4 (second series of pp.) This List, as entered in the Record, No. II. p. 167, assumes the form of a hurriedly written memorandum, the books enumerated being for the most part described merely by their authors' names, without any notice of the place or year of printing, or number of volumes of which they consisted.
This bequest has been also printed in Wodrow's Biograph. Collect. Vol. I. part ii. pp. 528, 529.

7. Books bought by the Quaestor, at the expense of the University, in 1577. p. 409.
From the College Record, No. VII. p. 23, collated with a copy in No. CXXXV. p. 5, (second series of pp.) In the copy, at p. 166 of the Record, No. II. the Quaestor who purchased these books is stated to have been Mr. Thomas Jack, the title there prefixed to them being, "Publico aere empti;" and on the margin opposite there has been written, "Empti sunt opera Thomae Jackaei Quaestoris Academiae, 1577."

8. Books presented to the Library by Thomas Jack. Ibid.

9. Books presented to the College by Mr. Peter Blackburn, one of the Regents, on his departure to Aberdeen, 8th November, 1582. Ibid.
The preceding Lists, Nos. 8, 9, are taken from the College Record, No. VII. p. 23, collated with the copy in No. CXXXV. pp. 5, 6, and with that in No. II. p. 167.

With this article, No. 9, the copy of the Catalogus Bibliothecae, in the Record, No. II. ends. Nos. 8 and 9 have also been printed in Wodrow's Biograph. Collect. Vol. I. part ii. p. 529.

10. Books bought at the common expense of the University. p. 410.

11. Books presented to the College by Mr. Archibald Craufurd, Rector of the University, 14th July, 1586. Ibid.

Nos. 10, 11, are from the College Record, No. VII. pp. 23, 24, collated with the copy in No. CXXXV. pp. 6, 7. The date of No. 11 in the volume CXXXV. is written 4th July, 1586, but probably by mistake.

12. Books presented to the College by Mr. Mark Jamesoun, vicar of Kilspendy, 3d August, 1590. Ibid.

13. Books bought by the Masters, praeside Magistro Gabriele Maxuello. pp. 410, 411.

The date of this purchase may be approximately determined by Mr. G. Maxwell's admission to be Master having taken place on 9 Cal. Nov. 1605. [See p. 375 of Text of this vol.] He was First Regent on 11th November, 1612, as appears from his subscription taking precedence of those of the other Regents, appended to the charter of that date, constituting No. 113 of Vol. I. He seems to have dimitted the office of Regent in the course of the following year, as on Cal. Mart. 1614, Mr. Gabriel Maxwell, Rector of the Church of Eglesham, is appointed one of the Assessors of the Rector. (See at p. 317 of this vol. No. 24 of List of Rectors.)

14. Book presented to the College by Mr. John Cunynghame. p. 411.

The donor in this instance appears to have been the Johannes Cuninghamus, one of the graduates for the year 1614 [p. 12 of text]; and the donation was probably made on his receiving the degree of Master of Arts, as Students were accustomed at that period to present books to the College Library on the occasion of their graduation [vide infra, Nos. 19, 20, p. xxx.]

15. Book presented to the College by Mr. James Scharpe. Ibid.

Mr. James Scharpe, who made this donation, was in all probability the Jacobus Scharpe who was one of the list of graduates for 1612 [p. 11 of text], and subsequently appears to have been the Professor of Greek whose admission has been ascertained to have taken place between 8th September, 1613, and 9th August, 1614, and who was succeeded in the Greek chair by Mr. Robert Blair in 1616. (See List of Regents or Masters, printed in the Prolegomena.)

16. Book presented by Mr. David Dickson, on dimitting his office of Regent, in order to enter the holy ministry. Ibid.

Mr. David Dickson was admitted Professor of Greek on 15th October, 1610, [p. 376 of this vol.] and was the predecessor of Mr. James Scharpe in the Greek chair, and as such his dimission must have occurred some time anterior to 9th August, 1614, when Mr. Scharpe's name is first found among those of the Moderators who audited the College accounts, in a docquet of that date. No other data are now available for determining with greater precision the date of this donation.

17. Book presented to the College by Mr. John Blackburn, some time Dean of Faculty therein. [1592—1614.] Ibid.

18. Book presented to the College by John Lausson, citizen of Glasgow. Ibid.
The donor in this instance was probably the Joannes Lawsonus, one of the matriculated students of the year 1625 [p. 78 of text].

19. Books presented to the College by students who had taken the degree of Master of Arts in the same, A.D. 1615, et seqq. pp. 411, 412.

20. Books presented to the College by Archibald Johnstone, on the occasion of his receiving the degree of Master of Arts. pp. 412, 413.

21. Books bequeathed to the College by the Rev. Mr. John Hueson, Pastor of the Church of Cambuslang. A.D. 1619. pp. 413—416.

22. Books bequeathed to the College by Mr. Alexander Boyd, one of the Regents, who also left 1000 merks for rebuilding the College, April, 1619. pp. 416—418.
The preceding Lists, Nos. 12–22, are taken from the College Record, No. VII. pp. 25–30, collated with the copies in No. CXXXV. pp. 7–18, (2d series of pp.)

23. Books bequeathed to the College of Glasgow by the Rev. William Struthers, Pastor of the Church of Edinburgh. pp. 418, 419.
From the College Record, No. CXXXV. pp. 18–20, (2d series of pp.) The clauses in Mr. Struthers' will, in virtue of which the College of Glasgow acquired the books enumerated in this article, are the following: · · · "Item I leave my haill buikis in maner following—First, I leave to the Colledge of Edinburgh · · · fyftie buikis or volumes, to be chosine out of my haill Librarie be the Primare of the said Colledge; and quhen he hes takine his choise, · · · I leave to the Colledge of Glasgow · · · uther fyftie buikis or volumes to be chosine out of the reddiest of my said Librarie be the Principall of the said Colledge; and seeing I am addebtit to printeris, for printing of certane of my works, certane soumes of money · · · quhilks may overcharge my said executrice [Elizabeth Robertoune his spouse] thairfoir it is my will · · · that if ther sall not sua much money be gottine for the price of my saids works sett out be me · · · as will satisfie the said printeris for

Mr. Struthers died upon the 9th of November, 1633.

From the original, hitherto uninventoried, in the University archives. This letter is not dated, but, being addressed to "Mr. Robert Baillie, Principall of the Universitie," must have been written between 23d January, 1661, when Mr. Baillie received his presentation to be Principal, and August 1662, when he died.

It contains several catalogues of books, some of which were bought in Holland, and have their respective prices given in Dutch currency, whilst others, being bought in Scotland or London, have their prices indicated in Sterling and Scotch money.

The greater part of the volume is occupied with the accounts of the Quaestor pro tempore, showing the particulars of the annual receipts and expenditure of money devoted to the Library, from 3d May, 1636, to the year 1740. From the discharge of these accounts the entries in the text have been selected.

57. The Faculty resolve to expend £25 on the purchase of class-books, chiefly editions of Cicero and Livy, to be lent out to Students on their depositing the value of the book borrowed, and paying one-fortieth part of the value of the book for every month it is retained. 22d June, 1725. pp. 463, 464.

The preceding Acts of Faculty, Nos. 56, 57, are abbreviated from the College Record, No. XXII.

OF MATTERS TOUCHING THE FABRIC.

pp. 465—516.

1. AN INVENTORIE OF THE VOLUNTAR CONTRIBUTIONS OF THE SOUMS OF MONEY GEVIN OR PROMISED TO BE GEVIN FOR THE BUILDING OF A COMMON LIBRARIE WITHIN THE COLLEDGE OF GLASGOW, FURNISHING THAIROF WITH BUIKS AND OTHERWAYS INLARGING THE FABRICK, ETC. pp. 465—480.

This List of Contributions is taken from the College Record, No. XVI. It is a little oblong volume, in the original binding, containing 496 numbered pages, with 47 leaves thereafter not numbered, and is referred to in the other College Records of the time as "the Contribution Book." The title of the list of contributions, quoted above, has been elaborately engrossed on the first page of the Record, which is mostly autograph of the subscribers, or of the collector employed by the College to receive the contributions.

The entries of the subscriptions seem, in a large proportion of cases, to have been drawn up after a particular form, of which a few instances have been given, unabridged, at the commencement of the list printed in the text; as, for example, the Marquis of Hamilton's subscription at p. 465, which, mutatis mutandis, has been followed in most of the succeeding obligations. Not unfrequently, however, this form has been departed from.

Sometimes the obligation is in the handwriting of the collector, and has only been signed by the contributor; in other cases, the latter has added the sum subscribed, as well as his signature, to the collector's formula, whilst it often happens that the whole obligation itself has been written by the contributor.

The contributions are to be understood as being in the Scotch currency of the period, the few exceptions in which the sums subscribed were in Sterling money have always been specially indicated by the collector, by the additions of the words "Sterling," or "Inglish," to the sums in question.

The entry with which the list opens, recording King Charles I.'s contribution of £200, is superscribed by the king himself, and the words, "two hundred pounds sterling," seem also to have been inserted by the royal hand.

The notice of the king's contribution being granted at Seton, is written in a contemporary hand on the first fly-leaf of the Record.

To Principal Strang's subscription, printed at p. 472 of the text, the following memorandum has been subjoined in the original:—"24 Junij, 1637. The sowme of fyve hundrethe merkis above written, was payed by the Principall to Mr. John Herbertsone, collector. Lykas, I received of befoir, one hundrethe pundis contributed be the said Principall to the Blackfreir Kirk, and be consent of the Towne Counsell convertit for the use of the Colledge abowspecifeit, conforme to my ticket alreddie gevine to the Deane of Gild of the said Brughe thairof.

MR. J. HERBERTSONE."

The "Trew and Just Roll of the Soumes contributed to the Colledge," by persons resident at the Court of England, printed at p. 480 of the text, occurs at the very end of the Record, being separated from the preceding part of the Contribution List by a number of blank pages. It is throughout a notarial extract, engrossed in the present Record, and is thus authenticated:—"Extracted be me, George Hutchesone of Lambhill, notar publick, furth of the principall register buik of the Colledge of Glasgow, as the same is insert in the said buik and subscryvit be the foirnamet persounes. Ita est, etc."

2. A COMPT OF THE PARTICULAR NECESSARIS FURNISCHED FOR THE INTENDED WORK OF THE COLLEDGE OF GLASGOW, THE YEIR 1631. pp. 481—489.

These selections from the Fabric Accounts are taken from a College Record, hitherto uninventoried, which is deposited in the Clerk of Faculty's Press. It is a small quarto volume of paper, in the original parchment binding, containing 201 pages. This Record has been prepared by the accountants who were employed to take charge of the receipts and expenditure of the fabric money. The first 16 pages are in the handwriting of Stephen Rowan, who describes himself as "Collector for the New Building;" but he died shortly after its commencement, being referred to in the subsequent part of the volume as "umquhile S. Rowan." He was succeeded, as early as 28th April, 1632, by one Isaac Law, in whose hand the remainder of the Record is repeatedly stated to be written.

In the title quoted above, dated 1631, the rebuilding of the College is still referred to as "the intended work," from which it appears that, at the date of the earliest of these accounts, the erection of the new edifice had not been commenced. It is further evident, from the nature of the accounts referred to, that the operations connected with the Fabric in 1631 were confined solely to preparations for the building, such as hewing and carrying of stones, digging the foundations, and other preliminary work, and that the commencement of the edifice is to be dated from the following year, 1632, when the masons are first stated to have been engaged, and to have entered on their work.

In making the selections from the Fabric accounts, printed in the text, such entries have been extracted as indicated the precise time when any important part of the Fabric was begun or finished, the progress of the mechanical arts, the wages of workmen, and the usages of the age.

A series of weekly accounts of money paid to workmen, beginning on 17th March, 1632, and extending over thirty-four successive weeks, between that date and 3d November, 1632, occupies pp. 11—44 of the Record. The first two of these accounts have been printed at length in the text, as specimens of the whole, and the summae of the succeeding eight given, with the view of showing the average amount of money expended weekly on the edifice. The entries selected are, in general, scattered at intervals over the volume, and it will here only be possible to indicate the pages of the original where a few of them occur.

"The compt of the first small debursements at the beginning of the work." p. 484.
This account occupies pp. 60—62 of the Record, and is there immediately followed by "Count of uther particular debursements." Ibid.

From pp. 63—65 of the Record.

Two other series of weekly accounts, the former of which begins on 4th June, 1634, and ends on 6th September, 1634, whilst the latter comprises the thirty-seven weeks, of which the first and last dates are 8th April, 1637, and 9th December, 1637, occupy, respectively, pp. 85—92, and pp. 119—156 of the Record.

These series of accounts are preceded and followed by special accounts, engrossed at length in the Record, for materials or work rendered. To this class belong the "Count of Common Furniture imployed in the building from the 15th of Julie, 1637, to 9th December, 1637." "The registration of some warrants, etc." p. 486.
From pp. 157—171 of the Record.

Miscellaneous Accounts. pp. 487—489.
From pp. 171—201 of the Record.

3. Assignation by Mr. Zachary Boyd of 8000 merks, for building the Fore Part of the College above the Gate of the Second Entrance which leads into the second close; the two chambers hereby erected to be at the disposal of the chief of the family of Boyd. 9th November, 1646. pp. 489, 490.
From the original, entered as No. 3, C. I. p. 29 of Dillon's Inventory of Deeds in the University archives.

4. Rents payable for the several chambers of the College, to be employed in upholding the Fabric. A.D. 1646. p. 490.

5. Dues payable by the Scholars for the iron chimneys belonging to the College in the several chambers. pp. 490, 491.

6. Act of the Moderators appointing the Provisor to uplift the sums payable for the several chambers and chimneys specified in Nos. 4 and 5, and to take measures for causing any article therein, which might happen to be wanting or injured, to be replaced or repaired at the expense of those who occasioned the loss or damage. 4th Dec. 1646. p. 491.

7. Memorandum of the amount received by the Collector from the Scholars for repairing the Fabric. p. 492.

The preceding articles, Nos. 4—7, have been taken from pp. 7—13 of certain numbered fly leaves at the end of the College Record, containing accounts of the œconomus, from October 1640, to July 1649, and labelled on the side No. 9, (III.)

8. The Moderators, considering that Mr. Zachary Boyd had mortified for the Fabric 17000 merks, with reservation to his relict of a liferent interest therein, resolve to redeem that interest for a sum equal to seven years' purchase, and to apply the remaining part of the 17000 merks to the New Buildings; and, further, ordain a marble statue of Mr. Z. Boyd to be erected. 24th February, 1655. pp. 492, 493.

9. The Moderators, in order to prevent the detriment that might ensue from the edifice being discontinued, enact that so much money as the work may require be borrowed from time to time, in sums not exceeding 5000 merks each. 14th Jan. 1656. pp. 493, 4.

The preceding Acts, Nos. 8 and 9, are taken from the College Record, No. VII. pp. 95—97, where they are severally authenticated by autograph signatures.

10. THE COUNT OF THE MONEYES BESTOWED UPON THE BUILDING OF THE COLLEDGE OF GLASGOW, IN j^{m} vj^{c} FIFTIE-FYVE, AND j^{m} vj FIFTIE-SIX YEARIS. pp. 494—505.

These accounts of expenditure on the new edifice are taken from the College Record, No. XV. It is a small quarto volume of paper, in the original binding, containing 262 pages; and is throughout in the handwriting of the collector or officer intrusted with the receipt and outlay of the money devoted to the Fabric, whose name, at this period, was James Lees.

Prefixed to these accounts of discharge, and occupying certain numbered fly leaves at the commencement of the Record, occurs the corresponding charge, which is thus headed :—

"The Count of the Moneyes bestowed upon the Building of the Colledge of Glasgow, in j^{m} vj fiftie-fyve and j^{m} vj^{c} fiftie-six years."

A few of the receipts of the two years above-mentioned deserve attention.

The notice of King Charles I.'s subscription being paid by the Protector, at p. 465 of the text, is confirmed by the following entry :—

"Item, the Counter chairges himself with 200 l. sterling, adebted by the late King, and payed by ordour of the Protectour, inde 2400 l."

It appears that the £1000 mortified by Mr. Thomas Hutcheson, [see pp. 424—426 of the text,] for rebuilding the south quarter of the College, was received and expended in the course of 1655, 56, and that the directions of that benefactor, with respect to laying out the sum bequeathed at interest, had been duly complied with, as, in the interval between the date of the mortification and that of the present Charge, the interest had accumulated to an amount almost equal to the principal. The entries relating to this bequest are as follow:—

"The Counter chairges himself . . . item, with 1000 l. mortified by umquhill Mr. T. Hutchesoune for the Building 1000 l."

"Item, with the annualrent of the foirsaid mortification being from Witsounday, 1641, to Mairtimes, 1654 851 l. 5 s"

The following entry contains the only specific notice which has hitherto been found of the mortification by the Flemings:—

"The Counter chairges himself . . . item, with two thousand merks mortified by Robert and John Fleimeing, equaly betwix them, for the helpe of the Building of the Colledge of Glasgow 1333 l. 6 s. 8 d."

The present charge comprises the only existing specification of the sums expended on the new building, in virtue of Mr. Zachary Boyd's bequests; and, consequently, the only statement of the amount of benefit derived by the College from the munificence of that benefactor.

The entries relating to the bequest are here extracted:

"Item receivit 5000 merks left be umquhill Mr Z. Boyd for the Buildiug, and adebted be the Earle of Glencairne 3333 l. 6s. 8d."

"Item, with the annualrent of the said soume before the payment thairof 55 l."

"The Counter chairges himself ..."

"Item, with £2000 left be Mr Z. Boyd for the use of the Building, and adebted be Sir George Maxwell 2000 l."

"Item, with the annualrent thairof preceiding the payment 120 l."

"Item, with the 1000 merks left be Mr Z. Boyd for the use foirsaid, and adebted be the Laird of Caldwell 666 l. 13s. 4d."

"Item, with the annualrent preceiding the payment thairof 50 l."

"All which soumes is by and atour Seiven Thowsand merks and payed to Mr Z. Boyds relick for her liferent interest in the wholl soumes above-mentioned. (See pp. 492, 493, of this vol.)

The Masters of the College, among whom several changes had occurred since the date of their joint subscriptions, recorded at p. 472 of this vol. gave respectively, at the present period, certain sums to meet the exigencies of the New Edifice. The zeal of Principal Gillespie for the prosecution of the building operations, so often deplored by Baillie in his Correspondence, as leading to an extravagant expenditure of the College revenues, appears here also, in the greater amount of his subscription relatively to those of his Colleagues.

The sums contributed by the Masters at this time are as follow:—

"Item receivit from the Principall Mr Patrick Gillespie 600 l."

"Item from Mr Robert Baillie 200 l."

"Item from Mr John Young 200 l."

Item from Mr James Vetch 80 l.
Item from Mr Patrick Young a hundreth merkis 66 l. 13s. 4d.
Item from Mr Androw Burnet a hundreth merkis 66 l. 13s. 4d.
Item from Mr George Sinclar a hundreth merkis 66 l. 13s. 4d.
Part of the money expended on the Fabric, during the two years of this Charge, was granted by the Commissioners appointed for the government of Scotland during the Protectorate, as appears from the following entries:—
"The Counter chairges himself ... Item, with £20 sterling contributed by the Counsell of State furth of the abaitementis of the Assesse, from Jan. 1656 to July, which is six monthes, inde 1440 l.
"Item, with £20 sterling per mensem sixe monthes Januarij, Februarij, Mairch, Aprill, May and June, 1657, inde 1440 l.

11. The Moderators, considering the arrears due to workmen on account of the New Buildings, and the sums in consequence advanced by several Masters, ordain these sums to be repaid with interest, and to those Masters first of all who may vacate their offices. 9 Dec. 1659. p. 505.
Abbreviated from a contemporary entry in the College Record, No. VII. p. 100.

12. Compt made be W. Abernethie of the Moneyes receaved by him for the New Building, etc. conforme to ane Commission granted to him for that effect. 4 Feb. 1659. pp. 506–509.
These accouuts are taken from the College Record, No. XIII.;—a volume of paper in small 4to. in the original binding, only a small part of which has been written upon. It is in the handwriting of the Accountant who administered the money devoted to the Fabric.
On a fly-leaf, in a hand of the last century, the volume has been thus described:—"Book of Accounts about the New Buildings, from 1659, 4th Feb. to 1662, 25th March.—Charge from p. 1 to p. 12 inclusive—Discharge beginning p. 23, and ending p. 44."
It will be observed, that the part of the building in course of erection at this period, and to which these Accounts relate, was the front to the High Street, in particular the Fore Hall, the Principal's House, the Pend or Arched Gate-way leading from the High Street into the first Quadrangle.

13. Act assigning to Mr. George Sinclair, under certain conditions, one of the two houses appropriated to the Professors of Divinity. 18 Oct. 1665. p. 510.

OF THE COMMON TABLE & COMMON FURNITURE OF THE COLLEGE.

8 November 1582—7 Jan. 1712, pp. 517–551.

1. The Inventar of the Evidents Lettres Gudis and Geir perteining to the College of Glasgow the viii day of November 1582. pp. 517–519.

   Abbreviated from the original, which is authenticated by the autograph signature of Principal Smeton, at p. 169 of the College Record, No. II. (Described above at p. li. of Vol. II.)

   The memorandum within brackets, relative to the University Mace, occurs on the preceding page of the Record.

   The Inventory, as implied in its title cited above, is of a promiscuous nature, containing, besides the articles of furniture, a long series of the early charters, contracts, letters of horning, etc. As the greater and more important part of these deeds has been printed in Vol. I. it seemed unnecessary to repeat their titles here. Lines of points indicate their omission. The description, however, of some Records, no longer found in the College archives, but judicially founded on of old, has been retained.

   In the entry opposite to which "Libri" has been written on the margin (see top of p. 518), the words "all the commoun buikis abovewrittin," from their position in the Record, evidently relate to the lists constituting Nos. 4–9 of the Catalogus Communis Bibliothecae, 1578, (pp. 407–409,) which occupy the two preceding pages of the Record.

2. Obligation by William Striviling, the late œconomus, and his cautioner. 8 Dec. 1603. p. 519.

   From an authenticated extract, in the College archives, from the "Buikis of Counsal." It has not hitherto been inventoried.

3. Contract between the Masters and Andrew Herbertsoun, œconomus, as to the boarding of the Masters and Bursars. 22 October, 1608. pp. 519–522.

   From the original, authenticated by autograph signatures, in the University archives. It has not hitherto been inventoried. Part of the deed, where the concluding part of the notice appended to A. Hall's subscription was written, has been torn off.

   From the following passage in this deed, (see top of p. 520,) "The manner of the Buird sall be this, etc. The said Andro sall prepair to the saidis Maisteris and utheris that payis as they pay ane soup etc."—it appears that the Students, who paid for their diet at the same rate as the Masters, dined at the same table with the latter. This is supported by the following note, in a contemporary hand, at the end of the List of Buirders, 1631, in one of the Œconomus volumes—"15 Buirders, 13 at First Table." The two exceptions are in the case of Servants of the Boarders.

4. Inventur of the Guddis and Inspreth pertening to the College of Glasgow.—Memorandum respecting the recovery of the Rector's staff or mace in 1590.—Furnishing for the Fabric in 1614. pp. 522, 23.

From the College Record, No. VII. p. 39.

This inventory has not been dated in the original, but is written in a hand closely resembling, if not identical with, that in which the memorandum respecting the recovery of the Rector's staff or mace is entered. The memorandum, again, is in the same handwriting with the next paragraph concerning the Furnishing for the Fabric, dated 1614, which enables us to approximate to the dates of the preceding memorandum and inventory.

5. ACCOUNTS OF THE ŒCONOMUS, 1626. pp. 523–529.

From a College Record containing the daily, weekly, and yearly accounts of the Œconomus, from 1 October 1626, to 24 July 1633, and labelled on the side No. 2 (I.) It is deposited in the Clerk of Faculty's Press.

The accounts for each day of the week, beginning on Sunday the 1st and ending on Saturday the 7th October, and the daily accounts, from Sunday the 1st to Saturday the 7th April, have been extracted, with the view of showing the diet at different seasons.

It appears, from the dates of the accounts in the Record, that the session of the University at this period lasted from the 1st October to the end of July following, the entries of the daily supplies of provisions furnished to the common table invariably commencing on the first day of October, and ending on the last day of July.

In this volume of the Œconomus, the daily accounts are followed by Inventories of the College Furniture, for which the Œconomus was responsible, such as the "Inventar of the College Inspreathe," p. 529, and also special accounts of articles which it was that officer's duty to purchase or keep in repair, such as "Compts of the Cloathes, of mending the College Veschell, and such lyke;" "Counts of Common Furnitour not includit in the ouklie accounts," of which a specimen is given at p. 531, (No. 8 of this chapter.) The Record also contains "Counts of Buirders" during each session, one of which is printed at p. 530.

6. Inventar of the College Insprethe or Furniture. A.D. 1627. pp. 529, 30.

From the same Record of the Œconomus, labelled No. 2 (I.) This Inventory is there entered between the daily accounts for the session of 1626, 1627, and those for that of 1627, 28.

7. The Count of Buirders, 1628, 29. pp. 530, 31.
This notice is taken from the same Record of the Œconomus, No. 2 (I.) and has been entered between the daily account for the session of 1627, 28, and those for that of 1628, 29.

8. The Count of the Commoune Furnitour bocht to the use of the College, not incluidit in the ouklie counts. 1 Oct. 1628, 30 July 1629. pp. 531, 32.
This series of special accounts, of which in general only the summae have been printed, is taken from the same Record of the Œconomus, No. 2 (I.) and occurs between the daily accounts for the session of 1627, 28, and those for that of 1628, 29.

9. Contract between Principal Strang and John Grahame, the Provisor or Stewart of the College, as to furnishing the Common Table. 23 Feb. 1643. p. 532.
Abbreviated from an authenticated extract in the University archives, from the "Buikis of Counsall and Sessione." It has not hitherto been inventoried.

10. List of Boarders who entered after 5 October, 1643. pp. 532–34.
From a MS. Vol. of the Œconomus, containing the daily, weekly, and yearly accounts of expenditure on the Common Table, from October 1640 to 24 July 1649, and labelled on the side No. 9 (III.) The present list occurs between the accounts for the Session of 1642, 43, and those for that of 1643, 44.
The description which has been given of the contents of the earlier Œconomus volume No. 2 (I.) in No. 5, p. xliv. applies also to the present Record.

11. The Inventour of the Colledge Household Stuff, as it is in this present yeir, 1643. pp. 534, 35.

12. The Inventour of the Kitchin Furnishing with Brewing Vessel. 1643. pp. 536, 37.
Nos. 11, 12, which constitute two sections of the same inventory in the original, are taken from pp. 3, 4, of the numbered fly-leaves at the end of the same Record of the Œconomus, labelled No. 9 (III.)

13. Account of the Boarding of the Masters and Boarders at Irvine. 1645, 46. p. 537.
This memorandum is taken from the same Record of the Œconomus, and is there entered at the end of the daily accounts for the Session 1645, 46.
It shows that, during 1646, the members of the University were transferred to Irvine. The cause of removal was the prevalence of the plague at Glasgow, as appears from the minute of Faculty, printed at p. 312 of vol. II. beginning thus: 1647. Julii decimo sexto. In congregatione Facultatis artium (habita Irviniae quo Academia tempore pestis Glasguae grassantis translata est) etc. From another minute of Faculty, in the same College Record (No. IX.), from which the preceding has been printed, it appears that, in a subsequent part of the same year, the members of the University were for the same reason transferred to Paisley. The minute in question commences thus: "1647, Octobris 28. Pasleti · Tempore quo Glasgua peste infestabatur." See next article, No. 14.

14. Compt of the Expenses concerning the Interteanment of the Founded Persons and Buirders at Paisley. A.D. 1647, 48. p. 537.
This memorandum is taken from the same Record of the Œconomus, No. 9 (III.), and occurs before the daily accounts of the session 1647, 48.

15. Inventar of the Household Gear belonging to the Colledge in the Principal's house. 28 June, 1649. p. 538.
From the College Record, No. XI. the pages of which have not been numbered. It has been described above at p. viii. and p. xxi. The present Inventory is in the handwriting of Principal Gillespie. The omission indicated by the line of points, arises from part of the page on which the Inventory has been entered being torn off.

16–20. Obligations subscribed by the Students to restore the keys of the chambers they occupied, and to do no injury to the furniture therein, or to any part of the Fabric. A.D. 1649. pp. 539, 540.
From the same College Record, No. XI. These obligations incidentally specify the description of furniture in the rooms of Students at this period.

21. Contract between the Masters and James Sterling, Œconomus, as to the Boarding of the persons on the Foundation of the College. 26 December, 1649. pp. 540–543.
From the original, hitherto uninventoried, in the University archives. It is authenticated by the autograph subscriptions of the contracting parties.

22. A Note of the Plenishing belonging to the College, beside the Silver Staffe which lieth in the Iron Chest in the Library. 26 October, 1658. pp. 544, 45.
From the College Record, No. XI. (vide supra, No. 15.) This Inventory is in the handwriting of Principal Gillespie, and is authenticated by the autograph signatures of the Masters.

23. Account of James Fairbairne, goldsmith, against the Principal, p. 545.
From the original account which has been bound into the same College Record, No. XI. The note of receipt of payment is in Fairbairne's own writing.

24. Chimneys belonging to the College in the varions Chambers which are specified. 1 November, 1658. pp. 545–47.
From the same College Record, No. XI. This notice, which is in Principal Gillespie's handwriting, and is authenticated by the autograph signatures of the Masters, shows the number and arrangement of the apartments of the College.

25. Contract between the Masters and William Baillie, Œconomus, as to the Tabling or Boarding of the Masters and Bursars of Theology and Philosophy. 26 October, 1658. p. 547.

From the same Record, No. XI. This deed is in the handwriting of Principal Gillespie, and is authenticated by the autograph subscriptions of the Masters and the Œconomus.

From the present contract, it appears that there were, during the session 1658, 59, separate tables, with different rates of payment, for the Bursars of Theology and those of Philosophy. This arrangement lasted only for that year, as in the following deed (No. 26) it will be observed that, during the session 1659, 60, only one uniform charge of £24 was to be made for the board of each Bursar.

26. Modification of the preceding contract, No. 25. 1 October, 1659. pp. 547, 48.

From the same Record, No. XI. The subscriptions are autograph.

27. An Account of the College Table, from 13 Oct. 1659, till 12 July 1660. p. 548.

From a contemporary document, hitherto uninventoried.

28. List of the College Chambers. c. 1660. pp. 548, 49.

From a contemporary document, hitherto uninventoried.

29. A Note of the Plenishing belonging to the College of Glasgow. 21 Nov. 1662 p. 549.

From the College Record, No. XI. (vide supra, No. 15.) This Inventory is for the most part a repetition of those that precede, but the commencement shows that the Poculum Charitatis, which is here so designated for the first time, was the silver cup made by James Fairbairne, the Edinburgh goldsmith. (See No. 23, p. 545 of Text.)

30. Contract between the Masters and Mr. John Lees, Œconomus, as to the Tabling or Boarding of the Masters and Bursars. Sept. 1670. pp. 549, 50.

From the same Record, No. XI. This contract is authenticated by autograph signatures.

31. The Masters ordain £40 to be paid to A. Toftes, Œconomus, for two years' service, besides an allowance for his servants' wages. 8 June 1687. p. 550.

From the same Record, No. XI. This deed is authenticated by the autograph signatures of the Masters.

32. Agreement between the Principal and A. Eagle, cook, as to the diet of all English Students that may desire to board within the College. 9 Nov. 1711. p. 550.

From the original, hitherto uninventoried. It is authenticated by autograph signatures.

33. Declaration by A. Eagle, as to the meaning and extent of the Principal's obligation in the Agreement No. 32. 7 Jan. 1712. p. 551.

From a document, hitherto uninventoried, in Eagle's own handwriting. The Tutor mentioned in this document, was the officer appointed by Dr. Williams to act as inspector of the English Students attending the University. [See minute dated 22d December 1708, at p. 394 of Vol. II. See also p. xxiii. of the Table of this Volume.]

ACCOUNTS OF INCOME AND EXPENSE.

A.D. 1601—1714. pp. 552—588.

1. The Compt of the Haill College Leving of Glasgow, maid be William Stirveling, Iconemus, to the Ordinar Auditoris. 1601—1602. pp. 552—573.

From the College Record, No. VIII. This is a thick folio volume of paper in modern binding, and appears to have been made up about a century ago, by binding together a collection of the old accounts of the College. It contains the accounts of annual receipts and expenditure of the whole College revenues, from 1601 to 1643.

With the exception of the discharge for the year 1607, 1608, which has been printed at length, only such entries have been selected from the yearly accounts as alluded to the Office-bearers, Masters, or Bursars, during periods when no lists of these members of the University have been preserved, the salaries of the Masters, and rates of remuneration of professional labour, acquisitions of property by the College not elsewhere recorded, the dates of the erection of certain parts of the edifice, the expenses and mode of travelling and of conducting business, the progress of the domestic arts, the prices of articles in common use, and Academical usages.

The accounts in the present Record, No. VIII., are in the handwriting of the College Factor pro tempore, and have been audited every year by the Rector, Dean of Faculty, Minister of Glasgow, Masters, and also by the Magistrates of the Town, and even occasionally by the Vice-Chancellor. The docquets of the auditors are authenticated by their autograph signatures.

2. Accounts of the whole Annual Expenditure of the College, from 1643 to 1657. pp. 573—580.

From an uninventoried volume, consisting of the original accounts of charge and discharge of the College Revenues, bound together. It is a small folio in rough calf binding, labelled on the side in a modern hand, "Collection of old Factory Accounts and Rentals, 1643—1657."

The Accounts in the present Record have been annually authenticated by the signatures of the "ordinar auditoris," among whom, besides the Rector, Dean of Faculty, Minister of Glasgow, and Masters, the Magistrates of the Town still continued to be included.

3. Account of Alex. Tran's Intromissions with the Parsonage Teinds of the Subdeanery. A.D. 1685—1691. pp. 580, 81.

From the College Record, No. XXXIX. part iii. This is a thin folio, in the original binding, containing Accounts of the Income and Expenditure of the College Revenues from the Parsonage and Vicarage of the Subdeanery of Glasgow, in the Parishes of East Monkland, West Monkland, and Calder, from the year 1683 to the year 1744.

These Accounts have been annually authenticated by the signatures of the Masters, but not, like the preceding accounts, by the subscriptions of the Rector, the Minister, or Magistrates of Glasgow, and are only occasionally signed by the Dean.

4. Accompt of Intromissions with Vacant Stipends. A.D. 1690. p. 581.

From the College Record, No. XI., described above at p. viii. This account is one of a series, yearly rendered, from 1686 to 1690, by A. Tran, the College Factor, of his Intromissions with the Vacant Stipends of the Churches then belonging to the College by special grant. These accounts are authenticated by the signatures of the Masters only.

5. Principal Dunlop's Accounts of the Annual Expenditure of the College. A.D. 1690—1698. pp. 581—587.

From the College Record, No. XCV.,—a folio of paper, in the original rough calf binding. It is the College Ledger of Accounts, from the year 1690 to the year 1723. The first 48 pages, comprising the Accounts from December 1690 to March 1699, are in the handwriting of Principal Dunlop, and are yearly authenticated by the subscriptions of the Masters only. An alphabetical index at the beginning renders the volume easy of consultation.

6. Accompt of Intromissions with the Parsonage Teinds of the Subdeanery. 1696—1702. p. 587.

From the College Record, No. XXXIX. part iii. described immediately above in No. 3.

7. Accompt of the Principal and Mr. Morthland's Expenses in a Journey to London. A.D. 1714. pp. 587, 88.

Abbreviated from p. 84 of the College Record, No. XCV. described immediately above in No. 5.

NARRATIVES OF THE PRINCIPALS.

A.D. 1684—1702. pp. 589—602.

From the College Record, No. XVIII. This is a folio of middle size, only 18 pages of which bear any writing. It contains the three following narratives:

(i.) Principal Fall's Narrative of Affairs relating to the University, from 29th Sept. 1684 to 27th Sept. 1690. pp. 589—594.

This Narrative occupies pp. 1—11 of the volume, and is in Principal Fall's own handwriting.

(ii.) Principal Dunlop's Narrative of Affairs relating to the University, from 24th Nov. 1690 to 2d Jan. 1691. pp. 594—596.

Pp. 12, 13, of the MS. volume, in Principal Dunlop's handwriting, with the exception of the part enclosed within brackets at the end, which seems to have been engrossed by Principal Stirling, probably from a first draught by Principal Dunlop.

(iii.) Principal Stirling's Narrative of Affairs relating to the University, from 8th May 1701 to the close of 1702. pp. 596—602.

Pp. 13—18 of the MS. volume, in Principal Dunlop's handwriting.

Instituta a Theologiae Studiosis in Academia Glasguensi observanda.

1° Curriculum Linguae Hebreae et Theologiae studiis destinatum ad minimum quatuor annorum spatio definiatur.

2° Qui in numero studiosorum Theologiae censeri volunt cum primum ad Academiam accedunt nomina sua apud Gymnasiarcham reliquosque Theologiae Professores profiteantur, quibus reverentiam et obedientiam in Domino pro ratione officii sui praestare teneantur.

3° Primo Anno Hebraeis studiis caeterisque Orientalibus dent operam, et praelectionibus ad eas spectantibus auscultent, donec quantum satis videbitur progressum et profectum suum Professoribus probaverint.

4° Omnes Theologiae studiosi omnibus Professorum de Theologia praelectionibus intersint, disputationes omnes frequentent; quotiescunque aliquis a praelectionibus disputationibus aliisve quibuslibet theologicis exercitiis abfuerit, nisi probetur ejus excusatio, toties asse sterlinensi mulctator. Mulctae a Quaestore serventur donec ex sententia Professorum in usum pauperum distribuantur.

5° Omnes parati sint ad reddendam Professoribus rationem, quoties poscetur, profectus in studiis.

6° Secundo aut saltem tertio curriculi anno singuli vicissim in Sacrae Scripturae portione prout praescribetur ad modum homiliae tractanda versentur.

7° Post curriculum absolutum antequam quis ad exercitia in Scriptura publice explicanda coram Presbyterio admittatur, a Professoribus solenniter examinetur, qui periculum facient de ejus profectu in Lingua Graeca et Hebraea, praelectionibus Professorum, Chronologia, Scripturae locis difficilioribus, communibus Theologiae locis et contraversiis; Deinde Theses de aliqua contraversia aut loco communi Theologico, prout praescribetur, exhibeat, quas in publica diatriba explicet ac defendat: ut tandem defunctus examinatione privata et publica ac approbatus a Professoribus commendetur Presbyterio, cujus authoritate ad docendum Dei verbum publice admittatur.

8° Quod si aliquis ante confectum totum quadriennii curriculum cum publico testimonio eruditionis ex Academia emittendus sit, nihilominus tamen examinationem subeat et specimen doctrinae edat eadem ratione quae in praecedenti articulo praescripta est; ut intelligatur non de doctrina sed de temporis spatio, ubi usus postulat, aliquid remitti posse.

9° Si cui post confectum quadriennii curriculum aut post specimen eruditionis publice editum diutius in Academia uberioris doctrinae comparandae studio versari libeat, nihilominus ordinem observet in praelectionibus theologicis audiendis et disputationum per singulas hepdomadas exercitatione.

10° Bursarii quos vocamus, sacrarum literarum studiosi, audiunto assidui Theologiae Professorem, omnes; Linguarum etiam Orientalium Professorem, saltem Novitii; ab eo quo praelegere incipiunt die ad eum quo praelegere desinunt Professores.

11° Qui aequissimo huic decreto minus obtemperabunt, Bursariis poenam statuit Senatus Academicus, ut ea mulctentur pecunia quae habebit ad unius anni stipendium, rationem eam quam habere cognoscetur tempus quo non dederint operam docentibus Professoribus ad integrum tempus quo praelegitur quotannis.

12° Si qui vero Bursarii totos menses duos post decimum Octobris diem absentes desiderabuntur, eos mulctandos edicit Senatus Academicus toto unius anni stipendio.

13° Dictis poenis immunes vult Academia eos solos qui quam excusaverunt absentiae causam eam necessariam satis probabunt Gymnasiarchae et Theologiae Professori.

Nomina adolescentium Theologiae Studiosorum qui in Academia Glasguensi se Gymnasiarchae reliquisque Theologiae Professoribus in disciplinam tradiderunt, propria cujusque manu exarata, in testimonium futurae suae observantiae Institutorum antescriptorum a Theologiae Studiosis observandorum.

At the College of Glasgow January 29th j^{m} vij^{c} and eighteen: We undersubscribers, Professors in this University, do hereby declare, that though we have the greatest respect for the Honourable Commission of Visitation, yet as for several weighty reasons we could not vote in the election of a Rector made in November last, in consequence of an act of the Honourable Commission; So for the same reasons we cannot vote in the election of Assessors to the said Rector; and we do hereby further declare, that our sitting or voting at this or any other meeting about the affairs of this Society, at which meeting shall be present any person or persons who shall think themselves entitled to be present and vote in consequence only of the said act, shall no wayes inferr our acquiescing in any thing that may be inconsistent with the just rights and privileges of this University or any members thereof. 102. At the College of Glasgow the first day of November one thousand seven hundred and eighteen years.

Sederunt Mungo Graham of Gorthy Vice-Rector, Mr John Stirling Principal, Mr John Scot Dean of Faculty, Mr John Simson Professor of Divinity, Mr Charles Morthland Professor of the Oriental Languages, and Mr Andrew Ross Professor of Humanity.

It is this day enacted, that when due intimation is given of an University meeting, that all members thereof do give punctual attendance, or else shew a reasonable cause of their absence to the satisfaction of the meeting, otherwayes the meeting will look upon such absence to be contumacious, and will proceed to censure accordingly.

It having been represented to the meeting by the Principal that the College agent had expended some money in defence of the election of the Rector upon the eleventh day of November last, which was made in a meeting of the University held that day, in obedience to an act of the late Royal Commission of Visitation, against which had been offered to the Lords of the Session a Bill of Suspension, and insisted in for two severall sessions, thereby occasioning a considerable charge and expence, whereof the said agent had an account ready to give in, desireing that he might be re-imbursed of the same by the Masters of the University, in whose hands the management of the University revenue is; and it having been further represented by the Principal, that the said expence having been laid out in defence of a deed of an University meeting, he thought it proper that he should have the direction of this meeting in that matter, before he should lay the same before the managers of the revenue.

The meeting having taken the premises to their consideration, and having withall observed, that the meeting in which the said election was made was a particular meeting authorized by the late Commission of Visitation, and likewayes considering that it is not reasonable that the College agent should lie out of his money for any considerable time, They hereby authorize and give warrant to the Principal and other managers of the revenue to receive in the said accompt from the College agent, and to order payment to him of what they shall find to be justly due to him upon the said accompt, and that by way of advance in the meantime, untill the matter shall be laid before the present Commission of Visitation, and they give their orders about it.

Mr Ross who did not vote in this appointment desired leave to put the meeting in mind of a known reason why he could not concurr in it, and this is insert at his desire.

The University meeting in the next place proceeded to that business for which the same was chiefly called, viz. the election of a Rector for the ensuing year, and in order thereto caused read in their presence the Act of the late Commission of Visitation, dated at Edinburgh the fifth of November j^{m} vij^{c} and seventeen, signed by their Clerk, and observing that in the first part thereof all meetings of the students upon the day of an election was inhibited: The Principal was asked whether or not the Masters of the several classes had observed the said appointment this day? And he answered that it had been observed and obeyed by all the Masters. In the next place it was enquired at the Principal and Dean, whether or not they did meet upon the twenty-eighth day of last moneth in order to make a lite, and did intimate the same to the severall Masters concerned in due time conform to the particular directions laid down in the same act? And it was answered that they did meet accordingly. And having received from Sir John Maxwell of Nether Pollock, the present Rector, a letter subscribed under his hand certifying the person he designed to be put in the lite for Rector, and that they themselves being present gave in their respective notes subscribed by them of the persons proposed by them to be in the said lite, and that they did in due time, as directed by the said act, deliver the same to the Beddal to be intimated to the members of the University; And the several members present being asked if intimation had been made to them accordingly? It was acknowledged by them all that it had.

Then the Meeting having proceeded to consider of the election, the Vice-Rector signified to them, That he was under some difficulties in proceeding to an election at this time, for the following reason, viz. that having perused his Majestys Commission under the Great Seal authorizeing the late Commissioners of Visitation, he observed that all laws and statutes to be by them made and given as standing rules and directions to be observed in all time coming by the University, are ordained to be signed by a quorum of the Commissioners, and two duplicates thereof so signed to be made, one whereof to be left with the University, and the other to be given to the Clerk Register to be kept amongst the Records. And considering that the Act of the said late Commission of Visitation appointing the manner and method of the election of the Rector which was intimated to the University last year, and by virtue wherof the late Rector was elected is only signed by the Clerk, and that the said Commission is now vacated by a new warned all the members to meet this day, and the several members having owned that he had done so in the terms of the said act, The meeting did proceed to the consideration who should be Rector for the ensuing year, and the question being put, Who should be Rector? It was unanimously carried, That Mungo Graham of Gorthie should be Rector for the ensuing year. Wherefore the meeting did and hereby do elect the said Mungo Graham of Gorthy Rector for the ensuing year: And the meeting appoints the Principal, the Dean of Faculty, Mr Forbes and Mr Lowdoun to notify the said election to him, and to entreat his acceptance of the said office, and that he would be pleased to name a time as soon as conveniency will allow, when he may be waited upon at the College by all the Masters in order to his admission.

Commission from his Majesty under the Great Seal, he was doubtfull if the said act of the late Visitation was a sufficient warrant for this meeting to proceed to the election of the Rector after the manner and method there appointed; And therefore proposed to the meeting, whether it might not be more proper to delay the election of a Rector untill they should have the direction of this present Commission of Visitation thereanent, and that a representation of the said difficulties might be drawn up and presented to the next meeting of the said Commission for their direction. And the meeting having reasoned upon the whole matter, it was proposed to delay the election, and ordered that the reasons of the said delay should be drawn up by way of memorial, and signed by the Preses of the Meeting, to be by him laid before the next meeting of the Honourable Commission appointed to be at Edinburgh the eighteenth instant. To which resolution and order the meeting did unanimously agree, except Mr Ross who did not vote.

This being the day wherein usually the Faculty goe upon the affair of the continuation or election of the Dean of Faculty, the Reverend Mr John Hamilton Dean of Faculty took the chair, and it came to be reasoned whether the Dean of Faculty should be continued, and this vote was proposed, Continue or not? And it was carried by plurality of voices not to continue. Against which the Principal did protest, promising to give in the reasons of his dissent sometime to-morrow · · · To which protest Mungo Grahame of Gorthy Vice-rector did adhere, as did the Professor of Divinity, and the Professor of Oriental Languages.

Thereafter it was put to the vote Who should succeed as Dean of Faculty for the ensuing year, and it was carried that the Reverend Mr John Millar Minister of the Gospell at Nilstoun should be Dean of Faculty for the said time. But those who dissented from the former vote and also Mr Robert Dick P.P. declined to give their voice in this election.

The Faculty appoints Mr Alexander Dunlop and Mr Robert Simpson to intimate this election to Mr Millar and to know of him when he can meet with the Faculty here in order to be admitted · · ·

Jo. Hamilton D.F. I.P.F.

Reasons of the Protest against Discontinuing the Reverend Mr John Hamilton Dean of Faculty, and proceeding to the Election of another Dean att this time, by Mr J. Stirling Principal, June 26, 1718.

104. 1° Because all the Books and Records of this Society regulating the election of the Dean, and wherein is contained the oath required by the statute to be taken by a new Dean, are in the hands of the Honourable Commission for Visiting this University, so that the discontinuing the present Dean is in effect to deprive the University of one, tho he be a most necessary member for all publick deeds, since without the books a new one cannot be regularly admitted by tendring the oath to him; and it is uncertain when the Society shall have the use of their books, there being no near prospect of any meeting of the Commission to order it, and a proecss also depending before the Lords of Session, wherein the saids books are required to be exhibited.

2° Because the discontinuance of the Dean appears plainly to have been prelimited by a private concert and resolution entered into by a considerable number of the Faculty to discontinue the Dean and elect another, without laying the affair before any meeting of the Faculty, tho the same did meet on the 20th 23d and 24th instant, att which meetings it might have been regularly concerted; and yet the said resolution to discontinue the Dean was intimated by some of the present voters to discontinue to the Principal on the 23d, a little before the Faculty mett that day, with a plain declaration that if he did not go into the election of the person privatly resolved on to be Dean, another would be chosen, who would not be frighted from accepting to be Dean by any discouragement the Principal could give him: all which it is conceived is very irregular and unwarrantable, necessarily tending to division and schism in this Society especially in its present circumstances, wherein it seems adviseable to forbear the change of such an officer as the Dean till the Honourable Commissions mind be known: for all which he the said Principal protests against discontinuing the Dean, and all that may follow on it.

Given at the Court of St James's, under the privy seal of Scotland, 13 January 1720.

79. The which day a patent from his Majestie nominating and presenting Mr James Dick Minister of the Gospell att Carluke to be Professor of Ecclesiastical History in this University was presented and read; and it being put to the question if the University should by their Commission authorize a person or persons to present the said patent to the Presbytry of Lanerk and to prosecute the same before the said Presbytry and other Church judicatories in order to the settlement of the said Mr Dick in the said profession, it was carried in the affirmative. After which Mr William Forbes Professor of Law did in his own name, and in the name of all such as should adhere to him, dissent from the said appointment, declaring that though they had the most dutifull regard to his Majesties patent, and all imaginable respect to the Reverend Mr James Dick thereby presented, yet since all that by the said patent the Masters of the University are commanded to do is to receive and admitt the person presented upon his offering to them his said presentation, they conceived it neither incumbent upon the University nor their duty to meddle any sooner in this affair, the prosecution whereof seems to belong to his Majesties Solicitor, as appears in a late precedent in the case of the Reverend Mr Chambers to be Principal of the Kings College at Aberdeen: He likewise dissents against the said appointment in regard the Reverend Principal being uncle-in-law to the said Reverend Mr James Dick, and Mr Robert Dick his brother-german, and Mr John Simson SS.T.P. who is married to his wife's sister, ought not to have voted in that affair, whereby the vote would have been carried in the negative.

To which Mr Gershom Carmichael P.P. adhered with this addition, that he conceives the said presentation not only not incumbent on the University, but as this matter stands circumstantiated not proper for them: As did also Mr Alexr. Dunlop G.L.P. and Mr Robert Simson Math. P.

Thereafter it was agreed that the Principal and Professor of Divinity or any one of them shall be the person or persons authorized by a commission to the effect abovewritten, and ordered that the Clerk do prepare a commission, and carry it to the several members of the University to be signed accordingly.

82. This being the day appointed for the election of a person to supply the vacancy made by Mr Carmichael's death, the Principal produced a letter from the Rector, dated Edinburgh the 16th instant, signifying he was sorry it was not possible he could be present at the election upon this day, and wishing a happy choice for the good of the University.

Then after several of the members had discoursed about a fit person, the question was put, who shall be elected to the vacant profession of philosophy. And the Clerk having called the roll, it was carried by majority, That Mr Francis Hutchinson of Dublin should be elected. And therefore the Faculty, in consideration of the known merit, learning, and great reputation of the said Mr Hutchinson, and of his other good qualities, elect him in the foresaid terms to succeed to the vacant profession of philosophy in this University · · ·

And if it shall happen that through negligence of the Toune and sibi mutuo dare, eumque extra urbem efferendi copiam fieri rogaverit, jus esto Bibliothecario, consultis et suffragantibus Gymnasiarcha et Decano Facultatis, librum ei extra urbem utendum commodare, ea lege ut scripto caveat eum librum mutuo acceptum intra quindecim dies Bibliothecae sartum tectum restitutum iri; oppignorato interim libri justo pretio et dimidio etiam insuper apud Bibliothecarium prout ipse aestimaverit in Bibliothecae usum convertendo si fidem fefellerit: ita tamen ut a restitutione libri propterea non absolvatur. Eidem autem eundem librum intra aut post quindecim illos dies redditum denno extra Gymnasii septa, nisi post tres menses exactos commodari nefas esto. Nos autem qui huic legi subscripsimus sancte pollicemur operam daturos ut ea inviolata servetur, nec ulla ratione adductum iri ut assensum in contrarium praebeamus; nisi forte occurrat gravis aliqua et necessaria ratio quae publicum ecclesiae aut politiae bonum spectet a Senatu Academiae examinanda et probanda; quae ut firma et rata habeantur nostro singulorum chirographo obsignata sunt.

Letter from the Duke of Montrose to the Principal about the 500 pounds.

Shawford July 16th 1726.

Reverend Sir

55. In pursuance of the power given to me by the Duke of Chandois, I have this day signed a paper appointing the use for which the money given by his Grace to the College of Glasgow shall be applied; and I hope it is done in such a manner as will be of real service to the University, and likewise preserve the memory of his Graces favour to the University; but in regard that the money with the interest thereof may not perhaps at present be sufficient for defraying the charges of the building intended, I think it proper to give power to the Rector, to yourself, the Dean, and other members of Faculty to postpone and delay the building of the Library for a certain time, not exceeding three years, in case you shall find that the five hundred pounds with the bygone interest already due thereupon, is not sufficient for building a house of the quality and dimensions requisite.

This Letter you will do me the favour to lay before the Faculty. As I have endeavoured by this appointment to study both the advantage and ornament of the College, it will be a pleasure to me if my thoughts in this matter be truly agreeable to you all.

I am, Reverend Sir,

Your most humble servant,

Montrose.

At the College of Glasgow November 19, 1723.

56. The Principall reported that he had seen at Edinburgh the last six volumes of Rymer's Foedera which are wanted in the publick Library to complete the sett, but that they are not offered under the rate of Fourty lib. sterling; The Faculty considering that albeit by her late Majesties Royal favour this University had obtained the first eleven volumes of the said Foedera and were once in hopes of getting the rest · · · yet they have not been able to procure the remaining six last volumes · · · Therefore the Faculty appoints the said six volumes to be purchased att the rate of £40 sterling if they cannot be gott cheaper · · ·

Sederunt Mr J. Stirling, Principal; Mr J. Simson S.T.P et alii.

57. The Faculty having had under their consideration at severall meetings proposals for the encouragement of the Students of the Humanity Class, and having this day resumed that affair did resolve and enact as follows:

That for the encouragement of students in the Humanity Class particularly in the furnishing them with the use of books proper for them and which cannot be easily had in this place, the Faculty allows a soume not exceeding twenty-five pounds sterling belonging to the Library to be applyed for the said use · · ·

That the books to be purchased in the first place be a competent number of Ciceros and Livies at the easiest prices and of the ordinary editions, and that twenty-two pounds sterling be employed upon these books.

That the said books shall be putt in the custody of the Library-keeper, . . . to be kept in a press by themselves and lent out by him to such students as shall have the Professor of Humanitys warrant upon the conditions aftermentioned: That the person borrowing any book shall be obliged to consign the price of it upon his receiving it in the hands of the Library-keeper, for which he is to be accountable; That the warrants for the loan of books shall not exceed the space of a month, and the books shall then be brought back to the Library-keeper that he may view them to see if they be spoiled, and that then they may receive them for another month upon a new warrant, and so on during the session of the College; and the consignation money to be continued, and the use money after specified to be payed at the end of each month.

That if the Library-keeper shall find any book considerably spoiled, he shall carry it to the Principal, and the scholar who had the loan of it shall be either obliged to take it and forfeit his consignation money, or pay such a fine as shall be determined by the Principal.

That any person who borrows any of these books, shall pay for a loan for every month the fourtieth part of the price of the book; And the consignation money to be given back to the borrower upon the delivery of the book.

That the Library-keeper shall every year before the end of the College Session make account to the Faculty, and pay into the Quaestor what money he has gott for the loans or forfeits of the said books, for which end the Library-keeper is to keep a particular book for that purpose.

of the College, do therfor appoint two lamps to be placed within the said Courts instead of the lanthorns, the one to be placed above the door of the Laigh Common Hall and the other immediately over against the entry into the First Court; and considering that it is very necessary that the entry from the street to the College be illuminated, do also appoint two other lamps to be placed, the one at the undermost corner of the New Work and the other at an equal distance above the College Gate.

Proposal for building Two additional Houses for the Professors.

23. At the College of Glasgow, May 2, 1726. Sederunt Mr J. Stirling, Principall; Mr W. Forbes, J.C.P. et alii.

This day a proposal formerly made for building two more houses was read, the tenor whereof follows:

In order to the building two more houses it is proposed that if any person or persons will build two other such houses contiguous and adjoining to the house possessed by Mr Morthland, of the same dimensions and the same way finished, that the Faculty will, as soon as the said two houses shall be thus built and finished, give to such person or persons a real right upon both the said two houses to be built and the other four already built, for their security, ay and while the said persons shall be reimbursed otherways by the College of what shall be expended in building the same; providing that the said two houses shall not be lett at any higher or lower rents than that to be possessed by Mr Charles Morthland, nor the other four houses sett at any higher or lower rents than what were formerly agreed to, nor be set to any other persons than Masters, according to direction of Faculty. Which being considered, the Faculty did approve the said proposal, and resolved to make offer in the terms of the said proposal to any person or persons within the Society.

Mr Carmichael, Mr Loudon, and Mr Anderson dissented, for reasons to be afterwards given in.

Mr Andersons reasons of dissent are, That he neither thinks it for the honour nor interest of the Society to give an heretable security upon four houses already built and two to be built in terms of the proposal.

At the College of Glasgow, May 17, 1726.

24. In consequence of the act of Faculty of the 2d instant, Masters Dunlop and Morthland gave in a paper signed by them containing their acceptance of the offer made by the said act.

At the College of Glasgow, Dec. 17, 1728.

25. The Faculty proceeded in the examination of the accounts of the new houses from the third of March MDCCXXVI. unto the third of February MDCCXXVII., when the accounts of the four first of the houses end, and found the balance owing to Mr Dunlop and Mr Morthland at the said time to extend to 23918 pounds 4 pennies Scots, which with its interest to Lambes MDCCXXVII. amounts to 24515 pounds 19 shillings 4 pennies.

At the College of Glasgow, Dec. 26, 1728.

26. The Faculty examined the instructions of expenses and other accounts relating to the building of the last two new houses, viz. from May 1726 to August 1727, and found a balance owing to Mr Dunlop and Mr Morthland upon account of these said two houses at the last mentioned time of 14524 pounds 19 shillings and 4 pennies Scots; which with the former balance upon the first four houses of 22983 pounds 5 shillings and 4 pennies Scots extends in all to 37580 pounds 4 shillings and 8 pennies Scots due to the forsaid persons at the term of Lambes MDCCXXVII . . .

[NARRATIVES OF THE PRINCIPALS.]

AFFAIRES RELATEING TO THE COLLEDGE OF GLASGOW FROM MY ENTRY THERETO TO BE PRINCIPALL WRITNE WITH MY OWN HAND AS THEY OCCURRED, BY ME

JA. FALL.

1684. My Institution was on the 29th of September being Michaelmasse day, by the Archbishop of Glasgow in the Facultie house of the Colledge, the year of God 1684 ...

1685. In the Parliament holden this year at Edenburgh the Colledge obtained a Gift by Act thereof of the Vacant Stipends of the Dyocesses of Glasgow and Galloway for five years for repaireing the fabrick.

May 11th. A Gift in Exchequer was past in favours of the Colledge of a Tack of Kennedie of Grange factor for Commonel who was rebell and forfaited, upon which the Colledge gave a factorie to Mr James Kirkwood minister there for uplifting the Viccaridge payable to the Colledge out of that parish, which beares date August 29th 1685.

June 27th. The Magistrats of the Town of Glasgow granted their recept and oblidgement to the Masters of the Colledge of 150 lib. sterling and for paying the yearly annual rent thereof for maintanance of a Bursare of Philosophie in the Colledge, mortifyed by the late Archbishop Leighton, to which end he had mortifyed before the same summe for another Bursare. Each of them have 9 lib. sterling yearly.

October 20th. The College entred into contract with Robert Boyd and Allexander Tam massons for building the Colledge Yeard dyke with good ston and lyme, they furnishing all materialls and draughts and workmanship were to have 80 merks for every 36 ells at elle hight. ...

Being to inclose the Colledge Yards with so good a wall it was thought fit to take in as much ground as possible to make it regular and profitable for the Universitie, therefore the Masters transacted and bought in three yeards on the North side of the Colledge Yeards. That which lay nixt it belonged to the Laird of Torrence, which was bought for 28 years purchase, the second belonged to Robert Boyd masson for the same rate, the third belonged to Robert Barton for the same rate ... By haveing of which ground the Colledge Yeard goes now from the South to the East Vennall free from all houses, these two Vennalls being the march on the South and North, and the Burne towards the East. It is to be remembred that the barren trees are upon the Colledge ground tho without the dyke ...

1686. January 21. The Colledge Steeple wanting a clock we entred into contract with Walter Corbet, smith in Glasgow, for makeing one, for which he is to have one thousand merks, the one half at his entrey to work, the other at the finishing of it, and if it prove well he is to have over and above condition one hundred merks. All which was fulfilled ...

Mr Thomas Gordon one of the Regents going up to London this summer obtained in his own favours, without acquainting either Principall or Masters, a presentation from the King to be Professor of the Orientall Tongues in this Colledge, with the sallery of six hundred merks yearly, as the interest of ten thousand merks ordered by the said presentation to be raised out of the Vacant Stipends then belonging to the Colledge by Act of Parliament, and laid aside as a fond for the forsaid sallery. This design of his seemed both unreasonable and impracticable to the Masters, wherefore being cited at Mr Thomas his instance to compier before his Majestys Secret Council to see his gift made effectuall, the Lords appoynted a Committee of their number to examine the wholl matter, and particularly the Accompts of the Colledges intromissions with the Vacant Stipends, and after dilligent tryall made, found there could be no such sallery established upon him out of the Vacant Stipends for that tyme, but remitted the affaire to a Generall Visitation of the Colledge, and in the interim ordained the Masters to admitt him Professor by vertew of his Majestys presentation, but without a sallery; which accordingly was don in January thereafter 1687 ...

1687. In the moneth of June this year there sat at Edenburgh a Visitation of all the Colledges in Scotland by vertew of a Commission granted to that effect from the King. We were ordained to give in authentique copies of all our foundations, mortifications, rents, and disciplin to the saids Lords, which accordingly was done. And a particular Visitation was appointed to sit here on the 29th day of August that same year, but there not being a quorum at the day appointed the meeting was adjourned; Non being present but the Archbishop of Glasgow, his brother Sir William Paterson, and Mr John Sage one of the Ministers of Glasgow.

On the 11th day of October, Mr James Young, Humanity Regent, demitted his place in the hands of the Facultie, the Archbishop present, whereupon the Facultie takeing to their serious consideration the state of the Colledge rents, and finding them not sufficient to pay a yearly sallary of 20 lib. sterling to ane Humanity Regent, did therefor unanimously appoint that the Humanity Classe should be suppressed for a tyme till the Colledge were in conditione to mentaine it ...

1688. In the moneth of November, the Prince of Orange with an army of about fifteen thousand men came over into England. The consequences of this action, and the great Revolution which followed upon it, put a stop to all privat designs, and particularly to ours in compleating our begun works and reparations about the Colledge. Our publick table also broke up, and things being in so great confusion at home, I resolved to make a journey to London. Before I went I had gott home from Paris the collection of all the Roman authors of that famous edition printed for the Dauphin of France, and are now in the Librarie, and an ornament to it.

1689. Accordingly upon the 26th day of January 1689 I parted and stayed untill the end of Aprill. Upon my return I found things in the same fermentation among the common people as I left them. However wee preserved good order in the College and kept up disciplin therein as far as these tymes would permit.

In the vacation of the Colledge this year the Facultie upon severall considerations thought it fit that I should repair again to London ··· whereupon I went.

At this tyme a processe was intented and entred upon against Mr Thomas Gordon, one of the Regents, for a scandall. He appealled from the Facultie to the Lords of Session, who assoilled him from the scandall. But at the same tyme he gave a dimission under his own hand of his place to one of the Lords of Session who was his greatest friend, which dimission being sent to the Colledge, the Facultie declared his place vacant, and called one Mr George Sinclair who had been a Regent of the Colledge formerly to his place.

Dureing my stay at London I was advertised that some young men had presumed to take upon them to teach Philosophie privately in the Town of Glasgow. This being a manifest breach of the priviledges of the University, against all law or president in former tymes, and they withdrawing Students from the Colledge, I thought fit to make a representation of this abuse to the then Secretarie of State, the Lord Melvil, who upon this wrote a letter to the Provest of Glasgow to hinder all encroachments of that nature upon the just priviledges of our Society. Yet, notwithstanding these young men, being in all probability encouraged by some of our neighbours, did continue their teaching all that year, to the great contempt of authority and detriment of the Colledge.

1690. June 20th 1690. The Great Stair which caryes up to the Fore Common Hall and my house, wanting a raile, made that Hall uselesse. So upon the day foirsaid an agreement was made with William Riddell masson for putting up a raile of ston ballusters about it, with a Lyon and Unicorne upon the first turn, for all which he was to have for workmanship twelve pound sterling, the Colledge furnishing stone, lyme, and all other materialls. The work was begune the last day of June, and was finished the 15 day of August of the same year.

The Colledge Yearde being so well enclosed with a stone wall, and all finished, for two years it was set for three hundred merks: but finding these men to whom it was then set neither able nor capable to put things therein in such order as was meet or for the improvement of the ground, an agreement was made with Robert Robertson to plant all the walls with all sorts of good fruit trees, as also all the borders of the great plott cast into four quarters with new trees of good kinds, rooting out the old, and laying out the walks at twentie foot broad round about, and the crosse walk fifteen foot broad, to entertaine these walkes and to keep all things in good repaire ... And all this he is to performe at his own expence and charges, for which the Colledge granted him a tack for nineteen years. He is to pay yearly as the rent of the Yeard four hundred merks; but in consideration of the great expence he will be necessarly at in the first planting, he is to have an abatement of fiftie merks for the first nine years. So by this improvement of the Colledge Yeard there is two hundred merks of augmentation of our rentall, it haveing payed formerly but 200 merks before the walls were built ...

The Parliament this year did also by their Act appoint a Visitation of all Universities and Schools within this Kingdom, which met at Edenburgh the 23rd day of July for the first tyme, and then appointed Committees to every University in particular to visite the saids Universities respectively. In consequence whereof there came to Glasgow these persones following viz. My Lord Carmichell, Sir John Maxwell of Pollock, the Laird of Craigends, the Laird of Leuchat, John Anderson of Dowhill Provest of Glasgow, Mr James Smallett one of the Commissaires of Edenburgh; and for Ministers, Mr Gabriel Cuningham, Mr George Campbell and Mr John Oliphant, all of them persones of great honour and justice, as also of great moderation and temper.

These met in the High Common Hall, where after wee were all called in before them, their instructions from the Generall Meeting being read, and every thing in consequence thereof don, wee were required to take the four conditions required by law to qualify us for our places, to which every one gave in his answer apart. Whereupon wee were all ordered and cited apud acta to compear before the Generall Meeting of the Visitation at Edenburgh, the 24th of September, where wee all compearing, I was first called upon, and these conditions put to me again by My Lord Crawfurd praeses of the meeting. My answer which was in writeing, was this, viz. As the four conditions required by law to qualify me for to be Principall of the Colledge of Glasgow are a complex engagement, I am not free to take or submit to them. Whereupon I was deprived of my place, haveing had, before the pronounceing of my sentence, the publick thanks of the Commission for my fidelity in my charge, and faithfull administration of the revenues, and improvement of the same, etc. This was upon the 27th of September 1690. Doctor James Weims professor, and Mr William Blair were deprived at the same tyme and upon the same grounds.

So, praying God from the bottome of my heart to blesse this University, that it may flourish in all maner of learning and with learned men, that it may be a nursery of vertew and piety as well as of human literature, I leave it with much resignation of minde, and shall allwayes wish, and to my power endeavour, its wellfare.

If they who succeed me, think fit to follow out and continue this brief narrative of the affaires relateing to the Colledge, they may be usefull and profitable to posterity. If not, I have don my part.

At Glasgow, this 8th day of September 1690.

Ja. Fall.

PRINCIPAL DUNLOP'S NARRATIVE.

> Finding this commendable method of transmitting the affaires of the University to the view of these who shall succeed us, I am resolved to follow the same since I have succeeded in the office of Principall of this University, and to doe the same with my oun hand.
> Will. Dunlop, Principall.

Dr James Fall not resolving to comply with and submit unto the government in church and state complexly, as he worded it himselfe, His Majesty King William gave me a presentation to be Principall of this University, and because at that time Visitations were still in being of all the Universities, and they all seemed to be unsetled, my presentation was directed to the Earle of Craford President of the Secreet Councill pro tempore and President of the Commission for Visitation of Colledges, who called me to the Councill Board and there tendered me the oath of alledgeance, the assurance, and ane oath de fideli, November 24, 1690. And there being no Chancelor of the University, (the Bishops being abolished,) the Earle of Craford having power so to doe, required David Boyll of Kelburn Rector of the University together with the other Masters who were not deprived, viz. Masters John Trane, John Boyd, and George Sinclair, Regents, to institute me. And accordingly, December 11th, I was institute by the said Rector and other members of the Faculty after I had ane inaugurall oration before the University and a very frequent assembly of other lairned men.

Finding the paucity of the Faculty I thought it fit to haist to supply the vacant places, and to be cautious in the choice.

That same day therefore (December 11) the Faculty made choice of Mr Patrick Simson minister at Renfrew, a reverend prudent man of age and experience, to be Dean of Faculty in place of one Mr Creightoun a late Episcopall Minister ...

December 20. Dr Fall delivered to me the charter chist and other utensils belonging to the University, but without any inventar, that having been the method he receaved them, to me in the presence of the Masters of the University, and the Faculty having nothing to object against Dr Fall, but many things appearing wherin he had been more carefull then his predecessor for twenty years before, and that the Visitation of the Universities had given him solemne thanks for the same, the Faculty gave him a discharge and exoneration of his management, and likewise gave him 880 lib. 13s. 4d. Scots as being halfe a years stipend payed by the statuts and customs of the University to any Master on his removall from his place. The Faculty did on the same account pay Mr William Blair 600 lib. Scots ...

The Visitation of the Universities had looked on Mr Thomas Gordon as no member of the University because he had given a dimission of his [place as Regent, and never noticed that he had a commission to be Professor of the Oriental languages, and that he had not gott any sallary, yet was to gett it out of the Vacant Stipends, and claiming six hundred merks yearly for three years and a half, and that part of this had been promised him by the Faculty, and that tho the man was very unfitt for our society yet was litigious. The Faculty choosed to give him one thousand merks out of the first vacant stipends and to take a dimission from him and discharge of all claims, which he this day likewise did.

1691. January 2d 1691. There had never been so solemn and numerous ane appearance of disputants for a Regents place as was for fourteen days before this, nine candidats disputing, and in all their disputes and other exercises they all behaved themselves so well, as that the Faculty jndged there was not one of them but gave such specimens of their learning as might deserve the place, which occasioned so great difficulty in the choice, that the Faculty, choosing a leet of some of them who seemed most to excell and be fittest, did determine the same by lot, which the Faculty did solemnly goe about, and the lot fell upon Mr John Law who thereupon was this day established Regent.]

[PRINCIPAL STIRLING'S NARRATIVE.]

The late Principal Mr Dunlop having been so much taken up with publick affairs that he could not gett his design of transmitting the account of the Universities affairs to such as should succeed him accomplished; and finding no memoirs in his sons hands for carrying on the account begun by him, I am constrained to begin here where he left.

Jo. Stirling, Principal.

Mr Dunlop being removed by death the 8th of March 1700, the Principals place continued vacant till May 8th 1701, the which day His Majestie King William honoured me with a presentation to be Principal of this Universitie, which with considerable difficultie I did accept of, the presentation having been procured without my desire, yet not till the Presbyterie of Pasley, in whose bounds Greenock is where I was Minister, did, not-

July 1701. withstanding of great aversion signifyed by me, loose me from that charge and seriously recommend it to me to accept of the presentation, tho I was sensible it was cross both to their interest and inclination to lay so great a congregation, as I then had, vacant. This with other things relating to that affair as it was then circumstanced had such weight with my conscience that I found myself oblidged to accept of the presentation, and accordingly, September 18th 1701, I was admitted Principal by the then members of the Faculty, after I had said ane inaugurall oration before them and many others in the Back Common Hall. The members of the Faculty were Sir John Maxuel Lord Justice-Clerk Rector, Mr James Wodrow S.T.P. Masters Jo. Tran, Jo. Law, Gersom Carmichal and Jo. Loudun Regents and P.P., with Doctor Rot. St. Clare P. of Mathematicks.

Sept. 22. Finding the North side of the Inner Closs of the Colledge without a causey, and knowing that in the winter time it was like a puddle to the great inconveniency of the Students, I gave orders for causeying the same . . .

The Dean of Faculties place being vacant, and Mr Patrick Simson who had been all Mr Dunlops time in it refusing to serve any longer, the Faculty made choice of Mr David Broun minister of the gospell at Glasgow, a prudent man, in his room, to be Dean of Facultie on the 17th of October following, who accordingly, 3d November 1701, was admitted and took his place.

In the year 1699, May 6th, the Masters of the University had entered into a contract with the Toun of Glasgow about the building of the Colledge Kirk, comonly called the Blackfriars . . . Shortly after my entrie this Church was finished, but the expences of building the same did much exceed. I doubt not, what the Masters contracting projected, for upon ane exact perusal of all the Touns debursements and their instructions therof, I found, as appears by a subscribed account . . . that they did extend to £21308 3s. 8d. [Scots], and the Colledges part to £3279 13s. 4d. which was a very great soum for the Universitie, the payment wherof to the Toun hath much obstructed the putting off our debts. Before the opening of this new built Colledge Church, I with the other Masters had severall meetings with the Magistrats of the Toun about our choice of seats for the Universitie and our families, because, as was reasonable, ours was to be the first. Accordingly, December 18, I ··· made choice for the Universitie of the whole South and West Lofts, bounded on the one hand with the Magistrats seat to which it extends on the South East, and on the other with the North Loft, sold to John Luke, going from the South all alongst by the pulpit on both sides therof to that seat in the North Loft pertaining to the said John Luke. And for the Masters families wee made choice of the seats in the floor in the same South end of the Church, four in the midle row on the right hand, viz. 2 to the Principals familie, and other 2 to two of the Regents behind the same; three on the other side and left hand, viz. 1 to the Professor of Theologie, and the other 2 to the remaining Regents. Of all which seats the Universitie and those concerned 1702. in it took possession the 18th of January 1702, being a Lords day, and the first day there was sermon and publick worship in the said Church. It was my indeavour, since the Universitie had paid so dear for this Church, to have had a seat for the Students of Theologie in it as well as for those of Philosophie, but so great a part of the Church being necessary for their accommodation, they being upwards of three hundred this year, I could not gett such a seat for the Theologues as I did think proper, only the Toun allotted for them two seats behinde the Magistrats seat, of which they were put in possession; and they being verie convenient for hearing, and these Students being nowise distinguished by their habits, I was oblidged unless I had commenced a plea with the Town to take these seats for them at the time. But the Universitie is no wise precluded from demanding more of the Church as our number shall require ··· for by a clause of the Colledge's disposition of this Church to the Town, their right is burdened with a reservation of as much as the Universitie shall need. In consideration of our great advance there were also two seats allowed the Colledge servants and their families, viz. these two nixt the South door on the right hand. The burial places also, according to the abovementioned contract, were assigned to the Universitie, and are in the East and North side of the Church Yard.

The French King having caused proclaim the pretended Prince of Wales King of Brittain and Ireland after the late King James's death in September last, there were many addresses made to the King resenting the hie indignitie done to his Majestie and the nation thereby. Amongst the rest this Universitie addressed the King on that occasion. The address was graciouslie receaved, and the Earle of Hynford, then Secretarie, honoured me with a return, wherein he owns he was ordered by the King to give us his Majesties hearty thanks for our dutiful address ...

Upon a review of the College bussiness I found the debts verie considerable, for at my entrie there were no less of principal summs besides annual rents and other accompts owing by the Universitie, then twentie-five thousand eight hundred thirtteen pounds nineteen shillings three pennies Scots, as appears by the College Books. And that I may make it appear that the greatness of the debt leaves no reflection on the late Principal Mr Dunlop, whose faithfulness and skill in managing were beyond all exception, I must for the satisfaction of those who come after, and that I may do justice to the memorie of that worthy person look back to the state of the Universitie when he entred upon the administration. About Mertimess 1690 when Dr Fall was to leave this College he reckoned he left it under no debt at all, tho there were then by bond owing by the University upwards of fyve thousand pounds Scots, there being the equivalent summ of Vacant Stipends owing to it. But so it was that deducing expences and allowances upon these stipends, the College, by what I can find by their books, got but six hundred and nynteen pound seven shillings two pennies Scots. [By another accompt I find it is called 1429 lib. 7s. 2d.] I have also seen under Principal Dunlops hand ane accompt of Debts which were owing by the College at Mertimess 1690 though not by bond, extending to 4716 lib. 1s. 4d. At the same time there was also borrowed 2000 lib. to pay Dr Fall and Mr Blair each of them half ane years stipend and to defray the charges of Mr Dunlops transportation: by all which the debts were considerable when Mr Dunlop first medled in the Universities bussiness, and the yearly revenue thereof falling short 906 lib. of the sallaries and necessarie charges per annum, the debts at Whitsunday 1696 were suelled upwards of 17000 lib. Scots, and for the reasons above assigned it could not be otherwise. At the said term of Whitsunday 1696, the College was releived by a royal Gift of His Majestie King William, which was first granted in the year 1693 by Principal Dunlop's interest and moyen at Court. This gift was granted to all the Colleges in the kingdom, and thereby 300 lib. sterling was provided to each of them for the maintenance of a forraign Professor of Theology and Ten Bursars of Theology. But this destination not being acceptable particularly to this Universitie ··· by his interposing, the Gift was renewed to it, and thereby only 70 lib. sterling is destinat for 4 Bursars having 10 lib. sterling each for 3 years at this College, and 40 lib. sterling the 4th year in which they are obliged to study at a forraign University, and the remaining 230 lib. sterling ordered to be applyed for the payment of the College debts as the Soveraign should appoint. At the abovesaid term the College began to intromett with the said Gift which was the first step towards its effectual relief. But there being still difficulties in getting payment of the said Gift, tho it and all the rest of the College gifts were upon the Bishopricks, therefore Mr Dunlop two years thereafter procured a 19 years' Tack of the Bishoprick of Glasgow at 5 lib. per boll, with ane considerable allowance for a factor, by which tack upon a Letter from his Majestie the Lords of Exchecker allow the Universitie to detain in their own hands the 300 lib. sterling. The College indeed payed 12000 lib. Scots of grassum for it, which at the time did increase the debts, but by the same tack it is provided that there shall be 1200 lib. yearly during the whole 19 years allowed to the Masters of the University att their clearing with the Thesaurie as an article of discharge in consideration of the said grassum, which made the bargain verie profitable, and so much the rather that for some 2 years the prices of the victual were verie high.

By what is above related it is evident how the University came to be under so great a burden, and likewise how much service the late Principal Dunlop did to this Societie in procuring funds for paying off the debts which were necessarly contracted and for other proper uses, for which cause among many others his memorie ought to be alwayes savorie in this Universitie ···

1702. This winter the Students were verie numerous for there were in the 1st class, 106; in the 2nd, 69; in the 3rd, 102; in the 4th, 46; making in all 323, which with the Students of Theologie would have made upwards of 400.

In March, while I was by commission from the Facultie attending the General Assembly of this National Church the melancholie news of King William's death came, which occasioned the dissolution of that Assembly, the members themselves being desirous to dissolve and to have a new Assembly indyted. That great prince, and, under God, the glorious deliverer of these nations, died on the 8th of March 1702. The news of his being near death and his life's being despaired of came to Edinburgh on the 11th of March, in the forenoon, and the account of his death came on the 12th, and on the 13th her present Majestie, whom God long preserve, was proclaimed Queen at the Cross of Edinburgh.

In Aprile her Grace the Dutchess of Hamilton applyed for a tack of the teinds of Easter and Wester Rogertouns in Kilbride at 4 lib. per boll, which considering how dear these lands are, and what obligations her Grace had laid upon the Universitie by mortifying a 1000 lib. sterling thereto for the maintaining 3 Students of Theologie · · · all the Masters thought it verie reasonable, and therefore the tack was granted to her Grace. The like favour they also granted to William Sommerveil of Kennock, son in law to Sir William Fleeming of Fern, late Rector of this Universitie, because of the good services the said Sir William had done during his government in the College, and thereupon there was a tack given Kennock for the teinds of his lands in Kilbride at 4 lib. per boll, upon his paying 200 merks Scots of grassum · · ·

In May, Mungo Cochran, factor to the College, gave his bond for anc 150 lib. sterling for a nynteen year tack of the Vicarage of Commonel, paying the same tack duty yearlie as before.

Att the term of Whitsunday 1702, I gave orders to the College Chamberlain, Mungo Cochran, to pay fyve thousand merks to Mr Alex^{r} Tran, being the one half of what the University owed to him, and tuo thousand merks to Mr Walter Acheson of Rouchsalloch, both which soums were accordingly payed at this time.

In June, when the Parliament, in being when the late King died, mett, I indeavoured to obtain a Ratification of the Royal Gift of 300 lib. sterling granted by King William, but that Parliament finding themselves bound up by the Act empowering them to meet after the Sovereigns death from medleing in any thing but what is mentioned in the said Act, I was advised to forbear application to the Parliament.

In the close of this summer, considering there were four years of that part of the Bishoprick of Glasgow which lyes in the South owing, there was ane agreement made with Mr Alex^{r} Tran, by which the Colledge allowed him considerablie for his paines and expenses, and he obliged himself to pay into the College 2594 lib. 13s. 4d., which tho it was somewhat less then we might have had from a factor living in these parts, yet was more to the University's advantage in regard he obliged himself to pay it in sooner then ane other Factor would have done, and especialy because it payed off almost the 5000 merks which the College was owing to him after the former 5000 merks were payed.

Having been carefull since the time of my entry to keep record of the proceedings of the Facultie, by taking minutes of all material things that passed, I judge this way of recording things less necessary then in Dr. Falls time, I therefore resolve to continue it no longer.

Jo. Stirling.
